ARTIFICIAL TEETH PERFECTED!—T. J. CHANDLER, of Rochester, has purchased the exclusive right of Beaver county to use Dr. Stuck's Patent by which he can put up Vulcanite as thin as Gold Plate, with a beautiful enameled polish; and so light and elastic as to perfectly adapt itself to the mouth; obviating all that clumsy and bulky condition, so much complained of heretofore; and lessening their liability to break 100 per cent. Indeed, no one seeing it would be willing to wear the old style plate any longer than they could conveniently get them exchanged. All branches of Dentistry performed in the best and most substantial manner. In filling teeth with gold, etc., I challenge competition from any quarter, and can refer to living subjects whose fillings have stood between thirty and forty years. Among the number Hon. John Allison will exhibit fillings I inserted some 35 years ago; the teeth as perfect as the day they were filled. Laughing Gas prepared on a new plan, freeing it from all unpleasant and dangerous effects, making the extraction of teeth a source of pleasure rather than of horror and pain. Prices as low as any good dentist in the State. Office at Beaver Station, Rochester Pa.

Christ, starting on the campaign of the world's conquest, was selecting his staff officers. There were plenty of students, with high foreheads, and white hands, and intellectual faces, and refined tastes, in Rome and in Jerusalem. Christ might have called into the Apostleship twelve bookworms, or twelve rhetoricians, or twelve artists. Instead, he takes a group of men who had never made a speech, never taken a lesson in belles lettres, never been sick enough to make them look delicate—their hands broad, clumsy, and hard knuckled. He chose fishermen, among other reasons, I think, because they were physically hardy. Rowing makes strong arms and stout chests. Much climbing of ratlines makes one's head steady. A Galilee tempest wrestled men into gymnasts. The opening work of the Church was rough work. Christ did not want twelve invalids hanging about him, complaining all the time how badly they felt. He leaves the delicate students at Jerusalem and Rome for their mothers and aunts to take care of, and goes down to the seashore, and out of the toughest material, makes an apostleship. The ministry need more corporeal vigor than any other class. Fine minds and good intentions are important, but there must be physical force to back them. The intellectual mill-wheel may be well built and the grist good, but there must be enough blood in the millrace to turn the one and to grind the other.

He chose fisherman also because they were used to hard knocks. The man who cannot stand assault is not fit for the ministry. It always has been and always will be rough work; and the man who, at every censure or caricature, sits down to cry, had better be at some other work. It is no place for ecclesiastical doll-babies. A man who cannot preach because he has forgotten his manuscript or lost his spectacles ought not to preach at all. Heaven deliver the Church from a ministry that preach in kid gloves, and from sermons in black-morocco covers! These fishermen were rough and ready. They had been in the severest of all colleges. When they were knocked over by the main boom of the ship, they entered the "Sophomore;" when washed off by a great wave, they entered the "Junior;" when floating for two days, without food or drink, on a plank, they came to the "Senior;" and when, at last, their ship dashed on the beach in a midnight hurricane, they graduated with the first honor.

My text finds Jesus on shipboard, with one of these bronzed men—Simon by name. This fisherman had been sweeping his net in shoal-water. "Push out," says Christ; "what is the use of hugging the shore in this boat? Here is a lake twelve miles long and six wide, and it is all populated—just waiting for the sweep of your net. Launch out into the deep."

The advice that my Lord gave to Simon is as appropriate for you and for me. We are just paddling along the shore. We are afraid to venture out into the great deeps of God and Christian experience. We think that the boat will be upset, or that we cannot "clew down the mizzen top-sail," and our cowardice makes us poor fishermen. I think I hear the voice of Christ commanding us as he did Simon, on that day when bright Galilee set in among the green hills of Palestine, like water flashing in an emerald cup: "Launch out into the deep."

This divine counsel comes, first, to all those who are paddling in the margin of Bible research. My father read the Bibel through three times after he was eighty years of age, and without spectacles; not for the mere purpose of saying that he had been through it so often, but for his eternal profit. John Colby, the brother-in-law of Daniel Webster, learned to read after he was eighty-four years of age, in order that he might become acquainted with the Scriptures. There is no book in the world that demands so much of our attention as the Bible. Yet nine tenths of Christian men get no more than ankle-deep. They think it is a good sign not to venture too far. They never ask how or why, and if they see some Christian becoming inquisitive about the deep things of God they say: "Be careful; you had not better go out so far from shore." My answer is: The further you go from shore the better, if you have the right kind of ship. If you have mere worldly philosophy for the hulk, and pride for a sail, and self-conceit for the helm, the first squall will destroy you. But if you take the Bible for your craft, the further you go the better; and after you have gone ten thousand furlongs, Christ will still command: "Launch out into the deep." Ask some such question as "Who is God?" and go on for ten years asking it. Ask it at the gate of every parable; amid the excitement of every miricle; by the solitariness of every patriarchal threshing-floor; amid the white faces of Sennacherib's slain turned up into the moonlight; amid the flying chariots of the Golden City. Ask who Jesus is, and keep on asking it of every Bible lily, of every raven, of every star, of evey crazed brain cured, of every blind man come to sunlight, of every coin in a fish's mouth, of every loaf that got to be five loaves, of every wrathful sea pacified, of every pulsless arm streched forth in gratulation; ask it of his mother, of Augustus, of Herod, of the Syrophenician woman, of the damsel that woke up from the death-sleep; of Joseph, who had him buried; of the angel posted as sentinal at his tomb; of the dumb earth, that shook, and groaned, and thundered when he died.

A missionary in France offered a Bible in an humble dwelling. The man took it, tore out a dozen pages, and with them began to light his pipe. Some years after the missionary happened in the same house. The family had just lost their son in the Crimean war, and his Bible had been sent back home. The missionary took it up, and saw that it was the very same Bible that he had left in the house, and from which the leaves had been torn. The dying soldier had writen on one of the leaves of the Bible: "Rejected and scoffed at, but finally believed in and saved." The Bible may be used to light the pipe of witticism by some, but for us it is a staff in life, a pillow in death, and our joy for eternity.

Walk all up and down this Bible domain! Try every path. Plunge in at the prophecies, and come out at the epistles. Go with the patriarchs, until you meet the evangelists. Rummage and ransack, as children who are not satisfied when they come to a new house, until they know what is in every room, and into what every door opens. Open every jewel-casket. Examine the sky-lights. Forever be asking questions. Put to a higher use than was intended the Oriental proverb: "Hold all the skirts of thy mantle extended when Heaven is raining gold."

Passing from Bonn to Coblentz on the Rhine, the scenery is comparatively tame. But from Coblentz to Mayence it is enchanting. You sit on deck, and feel as if this last flash of beauty must enchant the scene, but in a moment there is a turn of the river, which covers up the former view with more luxuriant vineyards, and more defiant castles, and bolder bluffs, vine-wreathed, and grapes so ripe that if the hills be touched, they would bleed their rich life away into the bowls of Bingen and Hockheimer. Here and there, there are streams of water, melting into the river like smaller joys swallowed in the bosom of a great gladness. And when night begins to throw its black mantle over the shoulder of the hills, and you are approaching disembarkation at Mayence, the lights along the shore fairly bewitch the scene with their beauty, giving one a thrill that he feels but once yet that lasts him forever. So this river of God's word is not a straight stream but a winding splendor—at every turn new wonders to attract, still riper vintage pressing to the brink, and crowded with castles of strength (Stolzenfels and Johannisberger as nothing compared with the strong tower into which the righteous run and are saved), and our disembarkation at last, in the evening, amid the lights that gleam from the shore of heaven. The trouble is that the vast majority of Bible voyagers stop at Coblentz, where the chief glories begin.

The sea of God's word is not like Gennesaret, twelve miles by six, but boundless; and in any one direction you can sail on forever. Why then confine yourself to a short psalm, or to a few verses of an epistle? The largest fish are not near the shore. Hoist all sail to the winds of heaven. Take hold of both oars, and pull away. Be like some of the whalers that go off from New-Bedford or Portsmouth to be gone for two or three years.—Yea, calculate on a lifetime voyage. You do not want to land until you land in heaven. Sail away, O ye mariners, for eternity! Launch out into the deep.

The text is appropriate to all Christians of shallow experience. Doubts and fears have in our day been almost elected to the parliament of Christian grace. Some consider it a bad sign not to have any doubts. Doubts and fears are not signs of health, but festers and carbuncles. You have a valuable house or farm. It is suggested that the title is not good. You employ counsel. You have the deeds examined. You search the record for mortgages judgments and liens. You are not satisfied until you have a certificate, signed by the great seal of the State, assuring you that the title is good. Yet how many leave their title to heaven an undecided matter! Why do you not go to the records, and find out? Give yourself no rest, day nor night, until you can read your title clear to mansions in the skies.

Christian character is to come up to higher standards. We have now to hunt through our library to find one Robt. McCheyne, or one Edward Payson, or one Harlan Page. The time will come when we will find half a dozen of them sitting in the same seat with us. The grace of God can make a great deal better men than those I have mentioned. Christians seem afraid they will get heterodox by going too far. They do not believe in Christian perfection. There is no danger of your being perfect for some time yet. I will keep watch, and give you notice in time, if you get too near perfection for the safety of your theology. One half of your Christians are simply stuck in the mud.—Why not cut loose from everything but God? Give not to him that formal petition made up of "O's"—"O Lord!" this, and "O Lord!" that. When people are cold, and have nothing to say to God, they strew their prayers with "O's!" and "Forever and ever, Amen," and things to fill up. Tell God what you want, with the feeling that he is ready to give it, and believe that you will receive, and you shall have it. Shed that old prayer you have been making these ten years. It is high time that you outgrew it. Throw it aside with your old ledgers, and old hats and old shoes. Take a review of your present wants, of your present sins, and of your present blessings. With a sharp blade cut away your past half-and-half Christian life, and with new determination, and new plans, and new expectations, launch out into the deep.

The text is appropriate to all who are engaged in Christian work. The Church of God has been fishing along the shore. We set our net in a good, calm place, and insight of a fine chapel, and we go down every Sunday to see if the fish have been wise enough to come into our net. We might learn something from that boy with his hook and line. He throws his line from the bridge: no fish. He sits down on a log: no fish. He stands in the sunlight and casts the line: but no fish. He goes up by the mill-dam, and stands behind the bank, where the fish cannot see him, and he has hardly dropped the hook before the cork goes under. The fish come to him as fast as he can throw them ashore. In other words, in our Christian work, why do we not go where the fish are? It is not so easy to catch souls in church, for they know that we are trying to take them. If you can throw your line out into the world where they are not expecting you, they will be captured. Is it fair to take men by such stratagem? Yes. I would like to cheat five thousand souls into the kingdom. Our Tabernacle Free College, within one year, will be doing the work of many churches. The students set their net last night on the back streets, and will set it every night this week in many destitute places; and soon we shall have a hundred lay preachers, proclaiming the Gospel day by day, and week by week, and three or four hundred Christians prepared for other styles of Christian work. If a man does not appreciate that work, he is stupid beyond all arousal. The whole policy of the Church of God is to be changed. Instead of chiefly looking after the few who have become Christians, our chief efforts will be for those outside. If, after a man is converted, he cannot take care of himself I am not going to take care of him. If he thinks that I am going to stand and pat him on the back, and feed him out of an elegant spoon, and watch him so that he does not get into a draught of worldliness, he is much mistaken. We have in our churches a great mass of helpless, inane professors, who are doing nothing for themselves or for others, who want us to stop and nurse them! They are so troubled with doubts as to whether they are Christians or not. The doubt is settled. They are not Christians. The best that we can do with these fish is to throw them back into the stream, and go after them again with the Gospel net.

"Go into all the world and preach the Gospel," says Christ; into the factory, the engine-house, the club-room, into the houses of the sick, into the dark lane, into the damp cellar, into the cold garret, into the dismal prison. Let every man, woman, and child in Brooklyn, New York, and London know that Jesus died, and that the gate of heaven is wide open. With the Bible in one pocket, and the hymn-book in another pocket, and a loaf of bread under your arm—launch out into the great deep of this world's ~~wretchedness~~.

The text is appropriate to all the unforgiven. Every sinner in this house would come to God if he thought that he might come just as he is. People talk as though the pardon of God were a narrow river, like the Kennebec or the Thames, and that their sin draws too much water to enter it. No; it is not a river, nor a bay, but a sea. I should like to persuade you to launch out into the great deep of God's mercy. I am a merchant. I have bought a cargo of spices in India. I have through a bill of exchange, paid for the whole cargo.—You are a ship-captain. I give you the orders, and say: "Bring me those spices." You land in India. You go to the trader and say, "Here are the orders;" and you find everything all right. You do not stop to pay the money yourself. It is not your business to pay it. The arrangements were made before you started. So, Christ purchases your pardon. He puts the papers, or the promises, into your hand. Is it wise to stop and say: "I cannot pay for my redemption"? God does not ask you to pay. Relying on what has been done, launch out into the deep.

The Bible promises join hands, and the circle they make will compass all your sins, and all your temptations, and all your sorrows. The round table of King Arthur and his Knights had room for only thirteen banqueters; but the round table of God's supply is large enough for all the present inhabitants of earth and heaven to sit at, and for the still mightier populations that are yet to be.

Do not sail coast-wise along your old habits and old sins. Keep clear of the shore. Go out where the water is deepest. O for the mid-sea of God's mercy! "Be it known unto you, men and brethern, that through this man is preached unto you forgiveness of sins." I preach it with as much confidence to that eighty-year old transgressor as to this maiden.—Though your sins were blood-red, they shall be snow-white. The more ragged the prodigal, the more compasionate the father. Do you say that you are too bad? The high-water mark of God's pardon is higher than all your transgressions. "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sins." Do you say that your heart is hard? Suppose it were ten times harder. Do you say that your iniquity is long continued? Suppose it were ten times longer. Do you say that your crimes are black? Suppose that they were ten times blacker. Is there any lion that this Samson cannot slay? Is there any fortress that this Conqueror cannot take? Is there any sin this Redeemer cannot pardon?

It is said that when Charlemagne's host was overpowered by the three armies of the Saracens, in the pass of Roncesvalles, his warrior, Roland, in terrible earnestness seized a trumpet and blew it with such terrific strength that the oppsing army reeled back in terror; but at the third blast of the trumpet it broke in two. I see your soul fiercely assailed by all the powers of earth and hell. I put the mightier trumpet of the gospel to my lips and I blow it three times: Blast the first—"Whoso will, let him come." Blast the second—"Seek ye the Lord while he may be found." Blast the third—"Now is the accepted time; now is the day of salvation." Does not the host of your sins fall back? But the trumpet does not, like that of Roland, break in two. As it was handed down to us from the lips of our fathers, we hand it down to the lips of our children, and tell them to sound it when we are dead, that all the generations of men may know that our God is a pardoning God—a sympathetic God—a loving God; and that more to him than the anthems of heaven, more to him than the throne on which he sits, more to him than are the temples of celestial worship, is the joy of seeing the wanderer putting his hand on the door-latch of his Father's house. Hear it, all ye nations! Bread for the worst hunger. Medicine for the worst sickness.—Light for the thickest darkness. Harbor from the worst storm.

Dr. Prime, in his admirable book entitled Around the World, describes a tomb in India of wonderful architecture. Twenty thousand men were twenty-two years in erecting that and the buildings around it. Standing in that tomb, if you speak or sing, after you have ceased you hear the echo coming from a height of one hundred and fifty feet. It is not like other echoes. The sound is drawn out in sweet prolongation, as though the angels of God were chanting on the wing.

How many souls here to-day, in the tomb of sin, will lift up the voice of penitence and prayer? If now they would cry unto God, the echo would drop from afar—not struck from the marble cupola of an earthly mausoleum, but sounding back from the warm heart of angels, flying with the news; for there is joy among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth!

☞ A Spingfield paper says: "We know shoes have soles and tongues, and now a chap in Rhode Island advertises, "Shoes made Hear." We don't believe it.

☞ As Governor Geary's term in office and opportunity to dispense patronage draws near an end, he is becoming a target for all the men whose ambition he did not advance and every mendacious journalist with no opponent at hand. The last attack upon him is in connection with the report of the committee to investigate the settlement of the war claims. This report was one which no really fair-minded man would have signed his name to, and in its presentation—at the close of the session, when the Governor had no time to make an answer—was cowardly. Governor Geary, in an atmosphere of corruption, has remained an honest and faithful public servant, and can afford even this last charge.—Philadelphia Press.

ABOUT INVESTIGATIONS.

We find in The Reading (Pa.) Times and Dispatch of March 27 the following:

"We heartily agree with The Scranton Repuplican when it says that the most prominent and ready men in the country to charge corruption upon others for political effect have been, and now are, the Hon. Horace Greely of the New York Tribune and Charles A. Dana of the Sun, and yet in no one instance have these brave accusers been able to establish the truth of what they charged although again and again have they had the opportunity."

This is of a piece with a good deal more of misrepresentation; instigated, we are glad to believe, by Ingorance rather than Malice, and, therefore, to be corrected right away. The Tribune has been always a little free in denunciation of bad men and gross abuses, political and social. As long as the men and wrongs denounced were of and by the Democratic party we were applauded by Republican papers.—When we discharged the higher duty of exposing corrupt men and practices in our own party, there were certain partisan journals which roundly abused us in a manner as above. Now let us review some of the charges of corruption we have made and proved, and see how far the abuse is deserved.

We reluctantly published a few months ago, as the only way to correct the evil, the painful fact that the Administration was sustaining, to the injury of the Republican party and the discredit of the country, a corrupt politician and contractor, in charge of the principal Custom-house of the nation, and we named him by name, Thomas Murphy. The evidence we published showed precisely how and to what extent he had swindled the country in time of its sorest need. Mr. Murphy did not wait for an investigation but resigned, which was perhaps the wisest course for him to pursue.

We found it necessary in like manner to expose Mr. Murphy's man, Terwilliger. We charged that he had corruptly received twenty per cent of the State printing and misapplied other property of the State while Clerk of the Senate. Investigation confirmed all we had charged and developed, indeed, something more, by which another appropriator of postage stamps, named Cushman, came to deserved grief. Mr. Terwilliger did not wait the issue of the investigation, but, offering as an excuse that the peculations proved against him were customary under former Clerks, confessed his guilt by resigning before the Senate could act.

Senator James Wood was also of the Republican party, to its great discredit. We said he had taken bribes from Wm. M. Tweed and Jay Gould and had voted in their interests corruptly, and we published the proofs. They have been examined by a committee and sustained; the report condemns Mr. Wood; a resolution of expulsion of the guilty Senator has been introduced and is pending in the Senate at this time.

As to the case of Col. Leet. We charged that this staff officer of the President while still on duty in Washington drew $5,000 a year from the Custom-house in this city, and that was proved by written documents. We said that he had come and, fortified with a letter from the President, had demanded control of the General Order business. The letter was produced and published. We charged that he had threatened one Collector with removal if he did not get the business, and that was proved by Leet's own confidants. The Collector did refuse, as we stated, and he was removed, as every body knows, to give place to a collector who at once gave Col. Leet a monopoly of General Order. We said the charges under this monopoly had been increased fifty per cent; the first merchants of New York established that they had been doubled. All this was shown before an Investigating Committee by witnesses named by us on the stand. Before the Committee had concluded the inquiry the General Order business was redistricted; the charges fixed at reasonable rates; the monopoly was broken up; and the imposition on Commerce of which we complained was removed.

There were printing frauds like those of Terwilliger in New Jersey, and The Tribune sent a correspondent to Trenton to expose them. Well, this was done pretty fully, and no New Jersey papers will be found to agree with the journal above quoted, in the notion that it was not done very effectually.

We declared last July that the Quarantine of this State was administered to the disadvantage of commerce, the robbery of merchants, and the discredit of the State; and we asserted that the Health Officer, Dr. Carnochan, had been bribed with $20,000 to allow the most outrageous impositions on merchants. When a Committee of Investigation was secured, we sent witnesses before it who proved matters worse than we had stated them, and finally produced the papers signed by Carnochan and the books kept by his confederates, proving absolutely his corruption. Dr. Carnochan was removed and a Republican was appointed by the Democratic Governor in his place. We charged similar abuses upon ten or a dozen of the Harbor-Masters of this port, saying that by collusion with tow-boatmen they made it impossible for shippers to obtain wharfage without bribery of the Harbor-Master. When the committee authorised to investigate these charges came to town it spread a copy of the The Tribune before it, called the persons therein named as witnesses, and established every thing we had said, and framed a bill to correct the abuse and remove the corrupt men who profited by it.

Looking along these same wharves, where Carnochan and Leet and the Harbor-Master defrauded the merchants, we saw how our seamen were maltreated in boarding houses, and we denounced by name a score or two of the ruffian landlords.—Thereupon the Seamen's Friend Society was encouraged to act. An old law of the State which these men had defied was enforced: many of the keepers were compelled to take out licences; and thirty-two others were indicted. We had previously exposed the class of theives known as "Emigrant Robbers," who pillaged in spite of the police. Since that time four of the worst of these fellows have been sent to State Prison for the full term of the law. The majority of the unconvicted rogues have gone into business with a notorious person named Elias, who practices chiefly on fellow knaves and fools, but whose latest attempt at fraud, exposure has already frustrated.

Several months ago, we exposed the sale by two Medical Colleges of Philadelphia of bogus diplomas, and named Drs. Buchanan and Payne as the culprits. Well a Committee of the Pennsylvania Legislature found what we had published was true and the Legislature itself has revoked the charters of the disreputable Colleges.

A fortnight ago we denounced the South Improvement Company as a corrupt monopoly, designed to seize control of the oil-refining trade—the fifth in importance of the industries of the country. We sent a correspondent to the oil regions of Pennsylvania, and exposed the whole conspiracy, naming the persons who had organized it. Since that time the Pennsylvania Legislature has revoked the charter of the Company, and Congress is investigating the subject.

We began months ago an exposure of the abuses which have crept into the system of References and Receiverships, which we believe to be necessary if not wise schemes for facilitating the administration of justice. The articles which we publish named names every time, and our facts were from the court records.—They may have been refutable, but they never were answered by any of the persons charged with encouraging the abuse. They had their effect, and the abuses were in large measure corrected; indifferent lawyers were deprived of a monopoly of the business, and litigants were given a choice of referees. But as a further result of these articles, the Bar Associations of this city was inspired to prefer charges against three of the Judges of the State Courts, and the investigation is just now concluding. The proof has not been made public in full and the result of the investigation, of course, is not known.

What The Tribune has done in the exposure of the Tammany and Erie Rings has been in common with other papers. It has not indulged in invective as freely as others, but it has been at least as fruitful in facts; it has nothing to regret, looking carfully back over its files, in its course in these matters; and after fully canvassing the whole subject it feels all the stronger in its resolve to strike at abuses hereafter wherever it finds them, irrespective of persons, classes or parties.

MRS. MASON.

Romantic History of the Woman in the French Arms Job.

A special correspondent of the New York World, writing from Washington, gives the following history of Mrs. Mason, who is now figering somewhat conspicuously before the French Arms Investigating Committee. As there are so many stories afloat regarding the identity of the lady whose name some of the unsuccessful speculators in arms have discreditably drawn into newspaper notoriety by their testimony before the Arms Investigating Committee, I have been at some pains to ascertain for the World precisely who she is and somewhat of her previous life.

Mention is first made of the connection of a lady in these arms sales by a Mr. Mackenzie, who recollected that he had been induced through Schenck, a broker, and Peck, a dealer in arms, to write a letter to a Mrs. Davis, promising to purchase arms by the hundred thousand if she could get them. The connection of a lady with arms sales having been thus brought upon the tapis by one New York witness, another proceeds to inform the Committee that the Mrs. Davis in question was a Mrs. Mason of Washington. This he could do, a woman being in the question, and yet withhold the name of the man who had placed him in relation with her.

Peck and Wiard tell how they were beguiled into the fancy that Mrs. Mason could achieve for them what other wise they had failed to effect, and in the connection conveniently forgot to mention that they had invoked the suppose I all-potent influence with the Government of no less a personage than the present American Minister to England. That is to say that there were two Schencks employed in this affair as well as a lady; a fact apparently not convenient for either Peck or Wiard to recollect. We find, moreover, that these witnesses forgot another important matter in their relations with this lady, whom they have brought into such mortifying publicity by revealing her name as connected with them in their effort to purchase arms without one cent of capital—they forgot to tell that they had failed to pay her hotel bill on that visit to the Hoffman House, or were unable to do it, much less pay up the large bonus of $25,000.

WHO IS MRS. MASON?

But turning from Peek and Wiard to the lady whose name they have made so public, it may now interest the general reader to know that she was born in Virginia, some thirty years ago, and grew to womanhood there and in Baltimore, in which last city she became engaged to be married to a distinguished Californian, who wounded Broderick in a duel, and who, dying before their marriage, left her a handsome income, of which she was defrauded. Her family having removed to Washington she resided here several years before the war, and until she was allowed upon a pass specially granted by Genera Scott in the fall of 1861, to cross th "lines" into Virginia upon important family affairs. Crossing the Potomac in a small, frail boat, her journey to Richmond was full of hardships an romantic incidents, for she was suspected by the rebel authorities, wh for some time regarded her as a spy Her stay in the South was short however, for she was taken under "flag of truce" to Norfolk or Fortress Monroe, and turned over, according to the newspapers of the day, a an "alien enemy" expelled from the Confederacy. It is alleged, however that this was a mere cloak to cove an important mission with whic she had been intrusted at Richmond and for which her peculiar talent studies and inclination appeared t fit her. She did not enter Virgin on any other errand than person business.

Returning to Washington, she resided apparently at one of the princ pal hotels, attracting a good deal attention from prominent militar men and politicians, until finally a rested and thrown into the "Old Ca itol Prison," upon charges of bei in direct communication with th rebel authorities and having begui ed information from a high staff of cer. Curiously enough it is thoug she owed her arrest to a rival e missary, the famous Mrs. Greenoug After several months incarceratio no proof having been found again her, she was released, but require to return to the South, presenting i the person of one delicate woman th strange spectacle of being expelle alternately from the territory of th two giant belligerent powers, tossed like a shuttlecock from one t the other. She was even sent unde the escort of an officer to the Confe erate lines on James River.

As an illustration of her clevernes it is told on good authority tha having a handsome Confederate fla for General Beauregard, and findin that her baggage would be searche as she was leaving Federal territor she folded it within her shawl, whic was proudly and gallantly carrie upon the arm of an officer (Gener Buel) intrusted by the Governme with her expulsion from the territo of the United States.

For the rest of the war Mrs. Maso seems to have resided at Charlesto S. C., where she was when that cit fell into Federal possession in Febr ary, 1865 and soon after which s was allowed to return to her famil in that city, with whom she has bee residing ever since.

HER PERSONAL APPEARANCE.

She is a brunette of the most d cided type, with purple-black hai dark brown eyes, and although small, delicate figure, is of singular striking appearance, with the air an manner of a French rather than a American woman. She has read

HERE is an argument against the election of Judge Davis, clipped from an administration paper the Alliance (O.) Local:

Judge David Davis weighs 225 pounds, and since his appointment as Judge has made the country the extra expense of providing a chair of suitable dimensions to fit his portly proportions. If he should be placed in the White House another chair would have to be ordered. It is a noteworthy fact that the country has never had any fleshy men as Presidents.

That Editor no doubt, expects a few advertising crumbs, the postmastership at Alliance, or a clerkship in one of the departments at Washington. He ought to have one or the other, for such cogent reasoning should be neither unnoticed nor unrewarded.

THAT Mr. S. P. Brown, who received twenty thousand dollars of the Evans plunder, and who said before the investigating committee that he heard Gov. Geary was to get a share of it also, turns out to be a department clerk at Washington. We incline to the opinion that it would be in order now for the Government to give him a permanent leave of absence. Men of his stripe had better be out than in official positions.

The latest dates from Cuba State that the American Consul at Kingston is very actively at work prosecuting Melchor Aguero, the leader of the Edward Stewart expedition, on a charge of having committed an act of piracy, and also against the Captain of the Edgar Stewart. The arms and ammunition of the Stewart are being discharged. The Spanish man-of-war Ba-ja is anchored along side of the Stewart, with orders to prevent her leaving at any cost.—Another telegram says that the Edward Stewart, after running along the northern and southern coasts of Cuba, was unable to land anything, and put into Kingston, where, by an agreement with the American and Spanish Consuls, she is detained.

ANOTHER bloody tragedy is reported from Muskagee, Indian Territory. It appears that the United States Court was in session there, and was engaged in trying a murderer named Proctor. The general belief was that he would be acquitted, on account of the fact that the Jury was chiefly composed of men but little better than himself. Arrangments were therefore made to arrest him on a new charge in case of his acquittal, and a Deputy Marshal, with a posse of men, went there for that purpose. Before the Marshal and his men, however, went into the court room, they were fired on from within by Proctor's friends, and two or three of the arresting party killed or wounded. The fire was immediately returned, but at a great disadvantage. Subsequently the friends of the arresting party in the court room, began to shoot at the Proctor desperadoes, and when the smoke had cleared away it was discovered that the Judge had been killed and eleven other persons either killed or wounded.

MISS ANNA E. DICKINSON delivered a lecture in Cooper Institute, last Friday evening, which was listend to by an immense audience. She scourged the corruptionists of this country with a merciless lash. In referring to them in detail she thus alluded to Senator Cameron: "We have one from Pennsylvania. His party wrote over against him in the Congress of the United States in 1862 the verdict, "common thief," and, so far as I know the verdict was correct."

In another portion of the address from which the above was quoted, we find the following, which will find a ready response from many an ex soldier:

> They say that he is the only man, and if you ask the reason, you are told first of all, that he is a soldier. Well, as I remember, a million of men may urge their claims on equally good grounds. Not only is he a soldier, they say, but the conqueror of the Rebellion. Now I may make a very [illegible] statement but I think I make a true one when I say that if there ever was a war fought in the world that was sought to success, in spite of its generals and commanders, it was this war. And the man who demands his reelection because he conquered the Rebellion, insults the dead [illegible] [Applause.]

IF there are any persons hereabouts, who reckon that the Evans plunderers will ever be brought to light, we suggest that they may as well dismiss such a thougt at once. The whole matter, we suspect, has been arranged, and will be heard of but little in the future. Thus Evans and his confederates escape, and Pennsylvania is minus nearly three hundred thousand dollars. The "ring" organs in effect, say this is all right, and abuse the independent newspapers of the State, for declining to see it in that light

THE Philadelphia Press, and the Lancaster Express, both widely circulated Republican newspapers, have thus far refused to hoist General Hartranft's name for Governor. They both allege that his nomination was one not fit to be made. Whether they will eventually wheel into his support remains to be seen, but judging from their present tone, we think it very doubtful.

The London Times, of Monday, says perhaps President Grant intends to keep the Alabama question of consequential damages open until the reassemblage of the Tribunal at Geneva. England, under the circumstances, should refuse to proceed in the arbitration if the American claims for indirect damages are not withdrawn. Parliament is urged to address the Crown to stay further proceedings.

HERE AND THERE.

—Mr. Wm. A. Ford, of Caroline county, Md., has a pet lamb that goes rabbit hunting—that is, he follows the dogs to the woods and, when they strike the trail, he follows in pursuit and seems to enjoy the fun as well as the hounds themselves. The lamb is not always successful in keeping up with his swift-footed companions, and sometimes he is left behind and gets lost. When this occurs, he loiters about, stops at some of the neighbors, and finally works his way home again.

—The Secretary of the Navy has written a letter to Gen. Garfield recommending the appropriation of $40,000 to the purchase of two large trial guns to be converted from smooth-bore into rifled guns, for the purpose of conducting a series of experiments, with a view of determining whether the smooth-bore guns of the navy can be increased in strength and efficiency by rifling.—The matter has been referred to the Committee on Appropriation.

—The divorce mania continues to rage in Massachusetts. Look at the docket of the Supreme Court now in session at Taunton! One hundred and fifty-one cases in all; and of those seventy-four are petitions for divorce and four for leave to marry again. Thus more than one-half the business of the highest court in the Commonwealth relates either to the dissolution of marriages or to petitions arising out of such dissolutions! Not a very fragrant docket we must say.

—Henry Meiggs, the American contractor, seems to be establishing an enviable reputation in South America as a man of enterprise and benevolent deeds. It is now stated that he has purchased a large portion of the suburbs of Lima, and that his intention is to immediately erect a large number of cottages for persons of moderate means, and on an improved plan. He is also about to establish a journal, and not for any special or partisan purposes, but for the furtherance of the broad material interest of Spanish America.

—Our Western Indians, says the Boston Globe, were long supposed to be the greatest experts at torture, but the Chinese, it seems, are more advanced in this fiendish capacity. A court at Hong Kong lately condemned a criminal to be killed by wakefulness. The culprit, a strong and healthy man, was kept awake constantly for fifteen days, his sufferings for the last few hours being of the most excruciating character. At last he dropped down and the heart ceased to beat. Roasting alive is a mercy compared with such torture.

—A report having been circulated that Senator Schurz was in default to the Treasury six thousand dollars, on account of his mission to Spain, he called upon the Fifth Auditor lately and ascertained that his account, like many others, was kept open, because the last six month of his salary had not been receipted for, and a small item of contingent expenses had not been certified by the legation in the usual form, and that instead of Senator Schurz being in default to the Government, a balance is still due him from the Government.

—Columbia county, Arkansas, is excited. A Dr. Roberts has there "picked up"—such is the phrase used by the Washington (Ark.) Telegraph—has "picked up," we repeat, just as if such stones were plentiful in the vicinage, "a genuine diamond, large as a partridge egg, and weighing forty carats." It is valued by the admiring and astonished beholders at $200,000! "Hurrah," cries the Telegraph, "for the diamond fields of Arkansas! Africa has no such diamonds as that!" Probably not.

—The New York Evening Mail says: Look for pure Vermont maple sugar. They have been boiling a man in it at Fairfield. This man was boiling sap in a forty-gallon kettle, hanging on a pole, when he struck his head against the pole and fell into the kettle. From what we know of the character of those Vermont farmers, we have not the least idea that they will throw away that much simply because it had a man in it. It will yet appear on our tables in the form of syrup, and if anybody finds buttons in theirs, they will please return them to Joseph Minor Fairfield Vt.

—Cincinnati is so growing in importance that the need of a new hotel is greatly felt there, and the want is to be at once supplied, or promises to be, three thousand dollars of the necessary stock having been already subscribed. "The May Convention," says The Commercial, "will again illustrate our lack of public houses such as add to the attractions of other cities." Indeed, it is the opinion of the same newspaper that Cincinnati is "the natural city of National Conventions," and that when the new hotel is built, all such Conventions will be held there simply as a matter of course.

—The Chicago Tribune compares the refusal of the missionaries to baptize the illegitimate child of George H. Butler, Consul General to Egypt, to a similar manifestation of vindictiveness in a Western State, where a minister declined to baptize the child of a misguided woman.—The mother belonged to some sect that believed that no soul could be saved unless the body it inhabited had been duly sprinkled and sanctified. Her child died without baptism, and she died, a year or so ago, without her reason.

—The Cleveland Leader mentions the invention in that city of a machine called the Patent Cat Exterminator. This is described as a large sheet-iron cat with cylindrical attachment and steel claws and teeth. The motive power is like that of a clock; the tail is swelled by a bellows in the interior, which also, by a tremolo attachment, causes the patent cat to utter wild cries of defiance. The machine being duly wound up is placed upon the roof of a house. Roused by its diabolical yells, every cat within half a mile rushes to action, sometimes from 50 to 100 attacking at once. Then the iron teeth and claws begin to work with lightning rapidity, and all the adversaries within six feet of the machine are torn to shreds. Reinforcement come up, only to meet a like fragmentary destiny, and soon great heaps of hair, toe-nails, and fiddle-strings are gathered upon the roof. This is probably the greatest mechanical invention since Dr. Tushmaker's beautiful machine for extracting teeth, so well described by the late Mr. John Phoenix.

—Mr. Lay, of the navy, has invented a torpedo, which is now before Congress, and for which he asks one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, provided it does all he claims for it. He proposes to send it out two miles at sea, keep it under perfect control from the shore by electricity, and direct it under a ship and blow it up, or to let it proceed one mile and cause it to return without exploding, showing the perfect control he has over the infernal machine. It is proposed that a board of naval officers shall examine it and certify that it has all the merits claimed. If what is said of the machine is true, it will create a complete revolution in naval warfare and provide another means of defence against a foreign invasion. As naval officers would have to use it in time of war, they oppose its adoption unless the most perfect tests are made by experienced officers.

Gov. Palmer's final Declaration against Grant.

Reasons why he Declined to be a Candidate for Re-Election.

[By Telegraph to the Tribune.]

CHICAGO, April 17.—The following important letter from Gov. Palmer to his neighbors and friends of Macoupin County, to-day made public, is in explanation of his declination to permit his name to be used before the Republican State Convention for renomination. It attracts a great deal of attention: To the Editor of The Carlinville Democrat:

Such of my old friends as may have heard the announcement you were authorized to make, that I would not be a candidate before the Republican State Convention for renomination, no doubt felt some curiosity to learn the reason for my conduct, and I know of no medium so proper for giving them the information as the columns of the newspaper established by us in 1859 when the Republican strength in Macoupin County amounted to 800 votes, out of a voting population of nearly 4,000.

The State Convention, which has been called to meet at Springfield on May 22, will be controlled by men whose leading object will be to secure that renomination and election of President Grant. They will make all the nominations of State officers subordinate to that object, and have a right to expect that the candidate they select for Governor will sympathize in their object, and undertake the canvass of the State to promote its success. I do not believe President Grant should be renominated by the Republican party, and will not say so. Nor will I consent to canvass the State to promote his re-election, unless the candidate placed in the field against him is more objectionable. I supported General Grant in 1868 with great cheerfulness. Then the issues which followed the war were of transcendent importance. It was then necessary to provide complete guarantees for the liberty, equality, and protection of all; and, in the comparison with the perfect accomplishment of these fundamental objects of the Government, measures of administrative reform were of small importance, and, in fact, from the state of the public mind, were then impossible. Now the most important public questions are such as relate to the enforcement of the laws, the administration of the public funds, provision for the care of the helpless classes, the reduction of the burdens of taxation, the enforcement of official honesty and responsibility, and the protection of the liberties of the people. As all who are familiar with my opinions know, I believe that all reforms and improvements in the direction indicated must begin in the State, and the first step towards success must be to win to the Government of the State the confidence and affection of the people.

No man need expect reforms in the administration of the Federal Government until the people assume the Government of the State, and enforce honesty and good government. The President and Congress are too remote from the people to pay any great degree of attention to their wishes; they must be impressed by the action and example of the State. With these views, I cannot defend or justify the opinion acted upon by Gen. Grant when he ordered four companies of infantry into this State to act as police, and that dictated his approval of the acts of Gen. Sheridan in raising troops by his own authority in this State, subjecting Chicago to military rule, whereby a peaceable citizen of the State was unlawfully killed. These lawless and dangerous assumptions of authority cannot be defended or apologized for by me, while the obligations of an oath to support the Constitution and enforce the laws of the State rest upon me. If the powers claimed and acted upon by the President in these instances exist in him, the State of Illinois is but a dependency of the Government at Washington, and the lives and liberties of the people are subject to the will of the President. To defend these acts of the President is to concede that the power he claimed exists. Such a concession by the Governor would be a crime against the people of the State. Nor could I, if a candidate for Governor, say to the people that President Grant has the inclination and ability to enforce economy and reform in the Government, nor will I submit my judgment on these points to a Convention that will be dominated by his appointees and partisans. JOHN M. PALMER.

The "Liberal" Movement in Illinois.

CHICAGO, April 17.—The call which has finally been made public endorsing the principles put forth by the Liberal Republicans of Missouri is signed by three or four hundred of the most prominent Republicans of Illinois. The call suggests that citizens of Illinois present at Cincinnati select a due proportion of their number to represent their State in the Convention.

SPRINGFIELD, April 17.—The State Register of this date contains additional "liberal" movement intelligence. The latest recruits are Governor Palmer, Hon. Newlin Bateman, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Secretary of State Rummel, Adjutant General Dilger, Hon. Wm. L. Gross and hundreds of private citizens. The Lieutenant Governor, Auditor and Treasurer have not yet signified their intentions.

Advice to Colored Men.

NEW ORLEANS, April 18.—The following will appear, by permission, in The New Orleans Republican to-morrow, as to the duty of the colored men in the South:

Hon. T. W. CONWAY, New Orleans.

SIR: I have yours of 21st inst. I think colored people will be benefitted by, and should sympathize with the Cincinnati Convention, because it tends to free them from the odium of complicity with the villainies and robberies which have been perpetrated in the abused name of Republicanism during the past five or six years, especially in the South. The monstrous exaggeration of taxes and debts in most of the Southern States is the fruit of white villainy. The thieves who perpetrated these robberies are now seeking to escape the just punishment of their crimes by bawling lustily, "Grant," "Grant," "I'm for Grant," "Hurrah for Grant."

The Cincinnati movement is at deadly feud with these robbers and their evil deeds. Let the honest and upright colored men join it then, and thus rid themselves of crimes which others only have perpetrated. Yours,
HORACE GREELEY.

☞The Philadelphia Herald makes the announcement that "Hon. F. B. Penniman, of Wayne county, formerly editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette, and one of the ablest Republicans in the State, has consented to attend the Cincinnati Convention in the interest of reform."

Forty-Second Congress.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE, April 15.—On a motion from the Committee on military affairs a bill was passed permitting the interment in national cemeteries of all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors. A bill was introduced providing that no money shall be paid from the proceeds in the Treasury of any captured or abandoned property without a special appropriation to be made hereafter therefor.

HOUSE.—Much time was consumed on dilatory motions on Mr. Hooper's supplementary civil rights bill. Petitions were presented against further land grants, and recognizing God in the constitution for religious liberty. The river and harbor improvement bill, which appropriates above $5,000,000, including $225,000 for the removal of Hell Gate and other obstructions in the East river at New York, was passed. A bill was introduced and passed for the appointment by the President of three commissioners at a salary of ten dollars per day each to inquire into depredations, on the frontiers of Texas by bands of Indians and Mexicans, and appropriating $6,000 for the expenses of the commissioners. Adjourned.

SENATE, April 16.—A bill was passed to provide for the redemption and sale of lands held by the United States under the several acts levying direct taxes. Also, a bill from the Committee on Mines and Mining to promote the development of the mining resources of the United States. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Nothing of interest transpired.

SENATE, April 17.—The following bills were passed: One appropriating $50,000 for the observation of the transit of Venus; to perpetuate testimony in the courts of the United States; to further the administration of justice, and a supplement to an act amending the enforcement act. The bill to authorize the President to accept the resignation of the judge of any Court in the United States was amended so as to confine its operations to Judges who shall have been ten years in office and it was rejected.

HOUSE.—The bill to regulate the seizure and examination of books and invoices in customs revenue cases was taken up, amended and passed: The bill appropriating $255,292 for the Military Academy at West Point was passed. Adjourned.

SENATE, April 18.—Nothing of interest to the citizens of Beaver county occurred.

HOUSE.—The bill incorporating the great Salt Lake and Colorado Railroad was passed. The civil service reform bill was taken up, but the House adjourned without action.

LEESBURG POISONING CASE.

Further Details—Mrs. Lloyd a Monomaniac on Graves and Dead People.

From the Leesburg (Va.) Mirror of Wednesday we gather the following additional particulars connected with the legal proceedings against Mrs. Emily E. Lloyd charged with poisoning her children, &c: The inquest on the body of the youngest child, Maud, was called on the 26th of March, immediately after the death of the little girl. Mrs. Lloyd was among the witnesses examined, but no verdict was rendered until after the analysis by Prof. Totry, when, on Saturday last, a secret session of the jury was held, and a verdict was rendered as follows:

The jurors sworn to inquire when, where, how, and by what means the said Maud Lloyd came to her death, upon their oath do say that, upon the testimony of witnesses and other evidences taken by them, it is their belief that the said Maud Lloyd came to her death on or about the 25th day of March, 1872, by reason of the administration to her of arsenic, and that the said arsenic was administered to said Maud Lloyd by her mother, Emily E. Lloyd.

The subsequent proceedings before the examining court on Tuesday, and the commitment of the accused to await the action of the grand jury have been fully given. It is said that Mrs. Lloyd is a monomaniac on graves and dead people, and that she seemed to derive a morbid and melancholy satisfaction in preparing her children for burial, in decorating their graves, &c. She attended to almost every detail of the preparation of the bodies of her children for burial, cutting out their grave clothes and dressing them elaborately with her own hands. Mrs. Lloyd is of medium hight, about thirty-five years of age, dresses in mourning, and has nothing remarkable in her appearance. On Monday she was engaged in her usual household duties, planning and arranging for the future with composure, as if nothing was impending to interfere with her domestic concerns. Her husband in 1868 kept a restaurant, and dying, left his widow and children a moderate income, sufficient for all their wants.

Searching for Victims of the Oceanus disaster.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Capt. Thomas W. Rea, who left last Monday for the scene of the late explosion of the steamer Oceanus, to recover, if possible, the bodies of those lost by the disaster, returned to-day, and reports that he and Mr. Fisher, the carpenter of the steamer, and four men, dragged the river from the point where the Oceanus exploded to the point where she sunk, three miles below, but found no bodies. They also explored both the Missouri and Illinois banks of the river as far down as Cairo, but the only thing found was the body of one of the lion cubs belonging to a menagerie on board of the steamer. The river has risen seven feet since the explosion, but Capt. Rea left Capt. Connelly in charge of the men, and the search will be continued. This is the ninth day since the disaster, and it is believed the bodies will begin to rise, and as the water is quite still, owing to the backwater from the Ohio river, all that rise can be easily secured.

☞The Mormon authorities commenced a series of arrests at Salt Lake City Thursday last, for refusal to pay oppressive taxes and licenses. An apostate mormon merchant, named Silver, was dragged over his counter and through the street, in all manner of indignity, and tortured with wire wrist cuffs, to City Hall. Intense excitement ensued. Hundreds flocked to the court room, angry and determined. Judge Hayden, for the prisoners, alleged that a great outrage had been committed, demanded time to prepare a defense and said $100,000, if necessary, was ready for bail. Silver was then released on recognizance till Monday. Eastern capitalists and others in Utah on mining business express strong apprehension of injury to the interest of the territory the coming season if the present situation remains intact.

The Situation in Matamoras.

NEW YORK, April 18.—A special from Matamoras says that from present appearances no attack will be made by the revolutionists on that city. There are plenty of men to carry the defense successfully, and Trevino, the revolutionary commander, has failed to obtain material for siege, and has neither food nor forage and his horses are starving. It is believed that he is compelled to abandon the attempt of capturing the city. Palacaise, the Government commander at Matamoras, promises to assume the offensive, and has ordered his troops to be ready to move at a moment's warning. He will start in pursuit of the revolutionists after the arrival of General Cevallos with reinforcements from Vera Cruz, hourly expected, who will occupy and defend Matamoras.

ROUT OF REVOLUTIONISTS CONFIRMED.

Mail advices from Victoria to the 12th, confirm the rout of the revolutionists under Narvarez, by Gen. Zapada, Governor of Conahuvila. The former were scattered, and are now between Tula and Naholuala, committing depredations.

Wool.

Wool cannot be a profitable product in most parts of the United States when it commands less than fifty cents a pound. According to the calculations of a prominent Western farmer this is about its actual cost in a washed condition, including interest on the value of the sheep, expense of wintering and pasturage. Yet the Australian and South American wools can be delivered in New York for from twelve to fifteen cents a pound. The farmer above alluded to, who recently before an agricultural convention in Wisconsin, urged, in view of the facts, the absolute necessity of protection for wool growers. There is no escape from his logic, and it is reassuring to read of such convincing arguments in favor of protection having been addressed by an intelligent farmer to his brethren. There will be no danger of relapse into the ruin of free trade if the agricultural classes are only kept wide-awake on the subject. The advocates of the British system lay down the general rule that no nation should encourage either the growth or manufacture of any product which they can buy cheaper—i. e., at a less price in money—abroad. Of course, then, they would say to the farmers, if they were candid, "stop growing wool," as they are saying every day to the manufacturers, who confess that their industries, with all the ramifying interest depending upon them, could not exist at present in free competition with cheaper labor and capital of Europe. If this advice was everywhere adopted and acted on, the United States would have to abandon almost every pursuit except the raising of cereals and cotton. Then if we continued to send these abroad in return for fabrics, how long before all our land would be exhausted by the constant and uncompensated drain, as those in many parts of the Southern States now are?

A Mormon Musser.

A mormon elder, bearing the expressive name of Musser, has, it appears, been giving rowdy and riotous counsel to his brother and sister saints, in a place called Beaver, somewhere in Utah Territory. This elder is bellicose, not to say desperate—one of the "last ditch" type of Mormons. He seems to be a man of some consideration, for he occupies the post of Mormon telegraph superintendent, and declares "rather than surrender one single principle of their religion, the Mormons would make a Moscow of Salt Lake City, tear up the railroads, break down the telegraph lines, and destroy millions of other property." This Musser is a terrible fellow, truly; and another elder, also enjoying the significant name of Cannon, is no less abusive, violent and menacing. Certainly, while the Cannons and Mussers of Mormondom are thus belching and raving, there is little hope for the Mormon request to Congress to be admitted as a State. Nor must we treat these ranters and villifiers as the worst of the Salt Lake City enemies of the Government. On the contrary, they do Congress a service in unmasking the hypocrisy which clings to the Mormon application to be admitted to the Union. The disintegration and dissolution of a great system like that of Mormon polygamy cannot be expected to occur without sundry detonations from its Cannons, and perhaps even some "musses" from its Mussers. It will be the part of statesmanship to make the change so steady and gradual as to involve the least possible commotion.

Nothing Cures Nobody.

When a man is supposed to have Consumption, or that tendency in the constitution which will ultimately develop that disease, nine times out of ten, he is given over to die, for the reason nine out of ten people believe it an incurable disease. What good does it do to believe that? Does it render the person safer, or add to his hopes of lengthened life? Not at all.

It leaves him without hope, and the man without hope will, in all likelihood, abandon himself to despair. Dr. Keyser has cured numbers of cases of consumption. Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure will disintegrate tuberculous matter and carry it out of the system. It will do more. It will neutralize that principal called tubercle, in the blood, and hinder its deposition in the lungs, or anywhere else in the human system. How fatal to consumptives is that plan which drives disease away from the throat and nose down into the lungs. A man supposes himself to have catarrh. He runs some acrid fluid up one side of his nose and out the other. The nose is healed, but the disease has descended down, where it is capable of doing more harm. The true treatment is to cure the blood, and the nose and catarrh will get well without spray or douches. DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE will do it.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh.

☞The mails having for a week failed to come to time in an Arkansas town, the local paper says it has been forced to draw heavily on the almanacs for copy, and if communication with the outer world should be still longer cut off, "we will be obliged next week to make extracts from the Bible, thus supplying some of our readers, at least, with matter entirely new to them."

Trustees' Sale

OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

BY virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Beaver county, the undersigned Administrators of the estate of William Davidson, sr., late of said county, dec'd., and Trustees to make sale of decedent's real estate after proceedings in Partition, will expose to sale at public vendue or outcry, on the premises on all the following described real estate of said deceased situated in Chippewa township, Beaver county, Pa., to wit: One tract bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at a post at south-west corner, thence by other lands of said deceased, (purpart No. 3) north 87 degrees, west 152 perches to a post; thence by lands of S. M. Welsh, north 3¾ degrees, east 87 75-100 perches to a stone; thence by lands of William McCaughtry and purpart No. 1 north 87 degrees 5 minutes, west 132 20-100 per. to a stone; thence by purpart No. 1 south 3 deg. west 87 60-100 perches to the place of beginning; containing 74 acres and 60 perches, upon which are erected a two-story frame dwelling house, log stable, and other outbuildings; about 60 acres cleared, and balance well timbered; a four-feet vein of coal underlies the premises.

Friday, May 24, 1872, at 10 o'clock, a. m.,

ALSO, Another tract in said township bounded by lands of Daniel McDade, Jeremiah Gilchrist, the minor heirs of John Davidson, deceased, and Joseph Hanna; containing 49 acres and 36 perches, upon which are erected a log dwelling house, log stable and outbuildings; fruit trees on premises; all cleared, under fence, and underlaid with a four-feet vein of coal. Each of above farms within three miles of New Galilee station, on P. F. W. & C. R. W. Mills, schools and churches convenient.

ALSO, on Saturday, May 25th, 1872, at 9 o'clock a. m., on the premises, all those two certain lots of ground situate in that part of Bridgewater boro. called North Bridgewater in said county, adjoining each other, and together bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at the end of Water street, and extending thence along the Sharon road to Elm street; thence by Elm street to the extension of Walnut alley; thence by said alley to Grape alley; thence by Grape alley to the place of beginning. A quantity of ground about equal to three lots in Davidson's plan of North Bridgewater, said lots having 150 feet front on Walnut alley, and extending back by parallel lines to Sharon road aforesaid, upon which are erected a large three and a-half storied brick dwelling house, containing 11 rooms; a new frame granary, coal house and other buildings; cistern and good well of water at the door; fruit trees on the premises.

ALSO, Two lots in said Davidson's plan, Nos. 37 and 38 in the borough aforesaid, upon which is erected a two-story frame dwelling house, containing 5 rooms and kitchen; good fence; coal house and fruit trees on premises.

ALSO, Lot No. 102 in said Davidson's plan, upon which is erected a small frame, one-story house with basement containing four rooms; good fruit on lot.

ALSO, Lots 69, 70, 71, 72 and 73 in Davidson's plan in said borough. Lots 69 and 70 having a front of 50 feet each on Sycamore alley, and extending back by parallel lines to Beaver and Sharon road; lots Nos. 71, 72 and 73 having each a front of 50 feet on Clarion street and extending back 129 feet to Sycamore alley, all under fence.

ALSO, Lots Nos. 58, 59, 60, 61, 63 in Davidson's plan, each 50 feet on Mulberry street, and running back 129 feet to Sycamore alley; all surrounded by fence.

ALSO, Lot No. 90, in said plan, bounded west by Beaver and Sharon road, 63 feet by said road, south by Grape alley 23 feet, east by Clarion street 63 feet, partly under fence.

ALSO, Lot No. 105 in said plan, upon which is erected a two story frame house containing 4 rooms & kitchen with cellar underneath, fruit trees on lot, and lot under fence.

ALSO, Lot No. 103, in said plan, upon which is erected a large, frame stable, lot fenced.

ALSO, Lot No. 104, in same plan, upon which is a one story frame house at present used as an office, containing two rooms with cellar underneath.

ALSO, The undivided one third of that certain lot of ground situated in said Boro. of Bridgewater, county and State aforesaid bounded on the east by Beaver River, south and west by Public Road or Street, and on the north by lot of —— upon which is erected a large steam saw mill

ALSO, Two lots of ground situate in Rochester tp., County and State aforesaid, being Nos. 22 & 24, in a plan of lots laid out by Jos. Irwin & John H Whisler, Administrators of the estate of John Bolles dec'd, containing TWO ACRES & ELEVEN PERCHES.

ALSO, A parcel or lot of ground, situated in said Rochester Tp., in the village of Bolesville, the last above mentioned lots containing ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTEEN AND ONE HALF PERCHES.

TERMS—One third of purchase money in hand on confirmation of sales by the Court; one-third at the expiration of one year from the date of said confirmation with legal interest thereon from the same time; and the balance to remain charged on the premises during the natural life of said decedent's widow, the interest thereon to be paid to her annually from and after said confirmation, and at her death said deferred instalment to be paid to the parties legally entitled thereto, purchasers to pay expense of preparing deeds, bonds and mortgages and stamping same

MACHINE.

The Best for All Purposes,

More easily managed, more durable, and runs lighter than any Machine in the market; easily cleaned and kept in order; large bobbins, holds twice as much thread as any other shuttle. Lock Stitch, alike on both sides; self-adjusting tension.

Justly Popular.

From the first the "DOMESTIC" has rapidly increased in popularity, until to-day, in the opinion of all experienced Sewing Machine men, it stands forth

UNRIVALLED!

It is gaining favor much faster than any other Machine heretofore presented to the public, which can be seen from its increased sales last year over the preceding, being

OVER FIVE HUNDRED PER CENT.

No Machine is increasing its sales and gaining public favor as rapidly as the

"DOMESTIC."

The Pittsburgh People's Monthly—For April—is at hand, and is fully up to the standard. The frontispiece of "The old Blacksmith," and the "Prince of Wales and Family" (both full page) are good. "Zeke's Courtship," and the "Chicken Stealers," in the "Household" and "Boys and Girls" pages, are admirably rendered; while the "Strange Scene on Four mile Run," being the illustration to the second installment of the story of "Old Fort Duquesne," furnishes a suggestive woodland picture. This Western Indian Story is having a great run. It grows in interest with each chapter; and the whole story is full of thrilling scenes and exciting personal adventure. All westerners should read it. 'Twas commenced in March Number. Those of our readers who have not yet subscribed to this deserving Western Illustrated Home paper, should hasten to do so. The price is only $1,50 per year.

W. Buechling in the Diamond of Rochester is receiving pure and fresh drugs every week from the East. Holloway's Ointment.—Erysipelas and all inflammatory diseases yield to a diligent use of this powerful preparation. In the foot, hand and neck, their approach should be checked at once—if suppuration ensues, danger is imminent, and the knife cannot be employed without jeopardizing life. This Ointment will remove the disorder, without cutting, pain or peril. 25 cents per box or pot. 19

An Offer to go Elsewhere.—We learned, individually last week that Prof. A. Beuter, who has been employed in the Beaver College and Musical Institute for a number of years past as principal in the Musical department has received a proposition to take charge of a similar department in the Wesleyan College, Delaware, Ohio. This is one of the finest colleges in the central part of the State, and the offer to teach its pupils in music is a high compliment to Prof. B. We do not know whether he will accept or decline, but we do know that if he accepts, the locality hereabouts will lose an excellent musical performer and a very genial, upright gentleman.

The addition of a little fine salt will be an advantage.

A Drug Store Narrowly Escapes Being Burned.—On last Wednesday morning the cry of fire was raised in the upper part of town, and on repairing thither it was discovered that the building in which Mr. Moore's drug store is kept was on fire. The fire was already bursting through when it was discovered. Happily, however, ladders and water were near at hand, and before many minutes elapsed the fire was subdued and put out. The fire it is supposed originated from a defective flue. Had the high winds of a few days ago prevailed on Wednesday, the building would have been consumed.

Important Figures.—During the year 1871, the Singer Manufacturing Company sold 181,260 machines. The simple increase in the business of the Singer for last year over 1870, is 53,426 machines, which is greater than the entire sales of the Grover & Baker; nearly equal to the combined sales of the Weed and Florence; greater than the entire of the Original Howe, Florence, Etna, Elliptic and Empire, and almost to the entire sales of the Elias Howe. These figures and facts speak for themselves, and should have some weight with the buyers of Sewing Machines. They need no comment. Straw & Morton, No. 24 Sixth street, Pittsburg, are the general agents for this district.

Free of Charge.—Call at Andriessen's Drug Store, Beaver, or at S. C. Hannen's, in Rochester, and get a sample of Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. It has lately been introduced into this country from Germany, and for any person suffering from a severe cough, heavy cold settled on the breast, consumption or any disease of the throat or lungs it has no equal in the world. Never wear anything in the shape of clothing that can press upon the blood vessels so as to impede the circulation. Put this down as a part of your hygienic philosophy. No matter what the fashions may be, insist upon carrying out this method of dress. Better have a good, round, plump, healthy body under a loose slouchy looking dress, if so it must be, than to have a poor, feeble, cadaverous body all but dead, covered up under a very nice, well padded, well-fitted dress. Take this fact in, and never let it go out of your mind. It is curious, when one studies the human body, to see its vitality expressed for its own preservation, how it resists any incursion on the vital domain.

Castoria—a substitute for Castor Oil—a vegetable preparation containing neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. It is pleasant to take, does not nauseate, and operates when all other remedies failed. Dr. Pitcher has experimented fifteen years in producing a preparation more efficient than Castor Oil, without its horrid taste. The Castoria regulates the system, cures constipation, stomach ache, croup and flatulency, and kills worms. It does not distress or gripe. By its quieting, soothing effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children.

A Model Establishment.—We often heard people complaining, some years ago, about the high price the Dry Goods Merchants of Beaver county ask for their different articles, and that our ladies are therefore forced to go to Pittsburgh, where they can do much better. But this has changed since our friend Mr. M. Schiff of New Brighton, took hold of the dry goods business, and pays his sole attention to this branch. He found out to be successful in business it is necessary 1st to have as little expenses as possible; 2d to deal fair with every one; 3d to sell goods with a very small profit; 4th to sell for cash only without exceptions. These four points he keeps steadily in view, and we know it is appreciated by the public in Beaver Co., as they patronize this firm extensively. Mr. Schiff purchases his principal stock of goods early every season at the best houses in New York, and never allows his stock to run down in articles which are daily used, therefore you can get at all times anything you need in his line. He marks his goods out in plain figures, and puts them so low that he is certain he cannot be undersold, hence there is no need here of asking for lower prices, and much talk and time is saved. He never purchases more than he things he can sell in a season, and this is the reason you can always find at this establishment fresh, tasty and fashionable goods. Mr. Schiff received this spring a splendid select stock of all novelties in the market, such as Japanese Silks, Japanese Cloth, Silk & Worsted Poplins, Spring Mohairs, the latest shades in Alpacas, Chinese Cloth, Piques, plain and figured Nansook, Bishop Lawn, Swiss Mull, Dress and Shirting Chintzes; also, the latest styles in Shawls, Lace Collars, Bows & Ribbons, Breast Pins and Ear Rings, Trimmings etc. We would advise every one to pay a visit to M. Schiff's store at New Brighton and convince themselves of the aforesaid.

Singular suicide. Mr. Jas. Fisher of Bakerstown, Allegheny county, committed suicide on the 3d inst., in the following manner. Getting up early in the morning he went out to a spring, not far from his house, and folding his arms in such a manner as to prevent the free use of them, cast himself head-foremost into the spring, in which position he was found drowned. The spring was small and walled around with stone in a circular form. Mr. Fisher was a sufferer from a cancer, and his life was being fast wasted from its effects. He had been heard to say that he would not let the cancer thus slowly eat his life away, and hence the reason for his singular suicide, the manner of which must have required the greatest resolution. He was about 65 to 70 years of age, and leaves a wife but no children.

On Everybody's Tongue.—Eulogiums of the great National Regenerator of Health, Plantation Bitters, are on everybody's tongue. This gratuitous [illegible] advertising is better than all the paid-for puffing to which the owners of bogus bitters are obliged to resort. It has a spontaneous heartiness about it which carries conviction to the mind of the auditor. But it is a well-known fact that the proprietors of the Plantation Bitters have never relied upon newspaper bolstering to establish the success of a preparation which owes its astonishing popularity mainly to the oral testimony of the thousands who have either experienced, or been the eye-witness of the immense physical good it has wrought throughout the length and breadth of the land.

The York True Democrat says: On Friday evening last, between five and six o clock, Franklin Meyers, residing in Princess street, west of Penn, in this place committed suicide by hanging himself with a rope from the rafters, in the garret of his house. He had been under the influence of liquor, it seems, from the evidence of a man who had seen him in the Market House, in Centre square, at five o'clock, and shortly afterwards committed the rash act. His wife had died some days before, and it was since then that his mind seemed much depressed. The principal cause of his trouble seems to have been on account of an infant child that he and his wife had agreed to raise for two hundred dollars.

The County Superintendency.—As most of our School Directors will feel interested—and all should be—in learning the qualifications of the several candidates before them for County Superintendent we give place to the following recommendation from the State Superintendent regarding Prof. Eberhart of New Brighton:

Department of Common Schools,
Harrisburg, Aug. 31, 1870.

The bearer, Mr. G. L. Eberhart, has been County Superintendent of schools in the county of Mercer in this State, State Superintendent of schools in Georgia, under the direction of the Freedmen's Bureau, and is now superintendent of the union schools of the borough of Kittanning. I have had good opportunities of learning how he discharged his duties in these several positions, and it gives me pleasure to say that he is a good scholar, an efficient teacher, and a very skillful manager of schools.

State of the Moral Market.—Credit is due to the New York Journal of Commerce for the following notice of the state of the market for morals in the United States; "There has been a good demand for sharpness and acuteness. We notice, also, some call for roguery and rascality. Selfishness is steady. Prudence—the stock small, but the demand inconsiderable. Peculation and embezzlement looking up. Gross flattery active, with a rising tendency. Adroit lying at a premium. Not much demand for truth, except in small quantities; holders firm. Candor unchanged. Uprightness has a downward tendency. Zeal for the right, dull and quiet. Modesty has declined. Light demand for justice; not much offered. Cunning more active than usual. A good business done in pocket-picking; would be better for the police. Something done in suicide. House-breaking rather active, just now. Popularity—many and lively bids at first and second call. Love of goodness and of good men rather quiet. Charity of the first quality, little offered; lower grades are in good demand, especially if they offer quick returns. Sincerity rather scarce, and demand moderate. Hypocrisy—some stir; we may say active. Drunkenness—much offered and a good deal taken. Recklessness in demand. Foolishness—much in market, and considerable quantities taken at high prices. Something doing in over trading. Promises not intended to be kept, plenty. Honesty firm, but at low prices. Usury rather flat. Extortion flat, also Covetousness, more fast than cholera, increasing."

Will Smith has a fine Solar Camera for making life-size Photographs. Any one wishing anything of the kind will do well to call on him. [apr17 2w.

Fits warranted. The patronage of the public respectfully solicited. Agents for the justly celebrated Singer Sewing Machine. Supplies of all kinds constantly on hand; such as Needles, Thread, Oil and Machinery. Broadway, New Brighton. [apr17;2w.

Narrow Escape.—Mr. Robert H. Cooper, of the firm of Orr & Cooper, Beaver, Pa., came very near being blown upward last week in Iowa. He went west a couple of weeks ago for the purpose of taking unto himself a wife, and on the Sabbath night, preceding the event, a store took fire near where he was stopping. After the alarm was given, himself and another gentleman ran to the store door, and finding it closed, made an effort to break the door open, so that they might enter and arrest the fire. While thus employed, the flames inside reached a keg of powder, and in an instant the roof of the building was blown to a height of twelve or fifteen feet. A portion of the fragments fell upon Mr. C. and his friend, cutting them both pretty severely, but not by any means, the first named gentleman fatally, as a notice elsewhere in the Argus will inform the reader, that he was married on the following Tuesday.

Wine.—As a further evidence, if any were wanting, that America is eventually to become the wine producing country of the world, we mention another specimen of the superior vintage of Beaver Co. presented us by Samuel Mitchell, esq., of South Beaver Township. It was manufactured from the Isabella grape, and in flavor and body excells the Johannisburg of the Rhine.

The Chinese question is so much agitated amongst the citizens of Beaver Valley, that it is necessary to remind the gentlemen that they better not forget to select a nice fashionable spring garment which Mr. Steinfelt of New Brighton offers at such Chinese low rates. He received last week the largest and best selected stock of all kinds of Cassimere Coatings and Vestings, and he can guarantee to every one a perfect fit, and the latest cut, as he always employs first class hands. His stock of ready made clothing is now complete and he offers the same at figures which must give satisfaction.

The Senatorial Question.—Our Pittsburgh cotemporaries are evidently getting to understand the make-up of Beaver county politicians better now than formerly. They used to "pitch into" the Argus unmercifully for doubting the political integrity of Messrs Quay and Rutan, but the following articles from two of them show, they are beginning to "know how it is themselves" up there. The Mail says:

The Republicans of Butler county claim the State Senatorial nomination for the Twenty-sixth district, composed of Beaver, Butler and Washington. Butler and Beaver are the only two reliable Republican counties in the district, and as Beaver has just had the Senator for three years, it is no more than fair that Butler should have the honor. Dr. Amos Lusk, an active and untiring Republican, will doubtless be presented by Butler. Although we have seen no reference to it in the Beaver or other papers of the district, we learn from the Harrisburg Journal that Speaker Rutan, whose term expires in October, is "being urged" for re-election. In recognition of an unwise and hasty act on Senator Rutan's part, we expect one of the "largest" dailies of this city will be out for him to-day or to-morrow. We doubt this story of "being urged," for when "Barkis is willin'" there is no necessity of urging. No, no; Rutan has made up his mind to try it again, and, the machinery moving without friction, he will make the nomination, no matter what Butler may say.

The Gazette comments on the above as follows:

The Mail does not believe the Republicans of Beaver are very anxious to return Mr. Rutan to Harrisburg, but intimates that "Barkis is willin'." However that might be, we imagine that our friends and neighbors down there will endeavor to find a candidate who can carry the district by a little larger majority than thirteen voters or thereabouts. If our information is near correct, we would say that it appears like madness to attempt to press a candidate who has not the ghost of a chance of being elected. It is evidently in order, to have a new deal in Beaver; but as the support of the "largest" has been promised to Mr. Rutan, possibly he might win if he were to try again. Poor Shurlock, however, can tell him beforehand how he feels. Butler county can be relied on for 300 majority against him, and his friends know whether that can be overcome. We imagine that "cut and dried" resolution confirming the newly-fledged Auditor General for three years, has done the business for the late Speaker. We shall see; in the meantime, we say halt, about face.

The Gazette, of April 20, has the following pertinent remarks in this connection:

"Quay's Radical says: The Pittsburgh Gazette, having convicted Speaker Rutan of Brighamy, is opposed to his renomination for Senate." We repeat that the republicans of the XXVIth district will attend to that matter in season.—They will likely nominate a man who has strength enough to carry the district with Republican votes. They will hardly nominate one who is opposed by, at least, five hundred Republicans of his own county. Such a course would be madness, unless enough Democratic votes can be secured to counterbalance the loss in Republican strength. If we thought Mr. Rutan could be elected, we would not oppose his nomination. The defeat of Dr. Shurlock, last fall, ought to be sufficient warning, and an effort should be made towards harmonizing the warring elements of Beaver county."

As we surmised some days ago, Senator Rutan is a candidate for renomination. His announcement appears in the last issue of the Beaver Radical. The Republicans of Beaver and Washington will go through the motions of renominating him, as his candidacy is already assured, it having been arranged at Harrisburg. What Butler county will have to say to the arrangement we shall probably hear ere long. We should like to have repeated the oft expressed opinion of the late appointee to the Auditor Generalship of Rutan's fitness when he was first a candidate. It wasn't gilt edge, either.—Pittsburgh Mail April 22.

Editorial Notices are so common that it is almost impossible for an editor to express his honest opinion of the merits of any article without being suspected of interested motives. This fact, however, shall not deter us from saying what we think of a new addition to the Materia Medica to which our attention has been recently directed. We refer to Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters, a remedy which is making its way into more families just now than all the other advertised medicines put together. There seems to be no question about the potency of its tonic and alterative properties, while it possesses the great negative recommendation of containing neither alcohol nor mineral poison. That it is a specific for Indigestion, Billiousness, Constipation, and many complaints of nervous origin, we have reason to know; and we are assured on good authority that as a general invigorant, regulating and purifying medicine, it has no equal. It is stated that its ingredients, (obtained from the wilds of California,) are new to the medical world; and its extraordinary effects certainly warrant the conclusion that it is a compound of agents hitherto unknown. If popularity is any criterion, there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the Vinegar Bitters, for the sale of the article is immense and continually increasing. apr10;4w

Stick to the Broomstick.—Did you ever see a woman throw a stone at a hen? It is one of the most ludicrous scenes in every day life. We recently observed the process—indeed, we paid more attention than the hen did, for she did not mind it at all, and laid an egg the next day as if nothing had happened. In fact that hen will now know for the first time that she served in the capacity of a target. The predatory fowl had invaded the precincts of the flower bed, and was industriously pecking and scratching for the nutritious seed or the early worm, blissfully unconscious of impending danger. The lady now appears upon the scene with a broom. This she drops, and picks up a rock fragment of the Silurian age, and makes her first mistake—they all do it—of seizing the projectile with the wrong hand. Then, with malice aforethought, she makes the further blunder of swinging her arms perpendicularly instead of horizontally—thereupon the stone flies in the air, describing an irregular elliptical curve, and strikes the surface of the earth as far from the hen as the thrower stood at the time, in a course due west from the same, the hen then bearing by the compass north-northeast by half-east. At the second attempt the stone narrowly missed the head of the thrower herself who seeing that any further attempt of the kind would be suicidal, did what she might have done first—started after the hen with an old and familiar weapon. The moral of which is, stick to the broomstick.

Hardware, Hardware, Hardware for sale by A. S. Harvey, Bridgewater.

An exchange says that a gallant beau, while escorting his sweetheart home from the circus, came to a puddle which was found too deep for the lady to cross without wetting her feet. Doubtless feeling equal to the emergency, the gallant swain gently lifted his dulcina in his arms, and proceeded to carry her across the muddy lake. Treacherous mud! misplaced confidence! Just as he was nearing solid ground the slippery earth caused his heels to make an angle skywards, and both the gentleman and lady fell "curflumix" into the mud and water. A more woe-begone or pittiable couple we never saw before.

Nervous persons would often be very greatly benefitted, if they would put on their hats or bonnets when they find themselves in a restless condition, and visit some friend a mile or more away; perchance that same friend may be in the self-same condition, but the very meeting of friends, the exhileration of inquiries and answers, and passing comments, often wake up to newness of life, and the heart that was a short time before almost weighed to the earth, bounds upward, and is filled with joyousness.

A new Presbyterian Church has been organized at Homewood by the Shenango Presbytery.

Sowing oats, is the occupation chiefly of our farmer friends—sowing wild ones that of some of their favorite sons.

Personal.—Our neighbor of the Radical, left home on last Sabbath for Washington City, after which he goes from there to Chicago. It is understood he will be absent for a couple of weeks.—The rumor that he is heading westward with a view of arranging a Presidential ticket embracing the names of George Francis Train for President and M. S. Quay for Vice President, needs confirmation.

Removed.—Mr. James M. Phillis has removed his store from the upper end of Beaver, to the room formerly occupied by H. Anderson esq. two or three doors west of McCreery's Bank, where can be found a general assortment of Glassware, Queensware, Liverpoolware, Terra Cotta ware, and flower pots. He will also pay the highest market price for old iron, metal, rags, and rope. He also keeps on hand a general assortment of groceries &c. for sale. Give him a call.

Strike among the Miners.—The miners at the various coal works about Clinton, in this county, have made a strike for an advance of 20 cents per ton. The demand was made on last Friday, and the price has not yet been agreed to by the companies. There are over 300 hands employed at the various works at Clinton. The stopping of work will be a serious matter. Yesterday and day before the trains, both North and South, did a large business in taking passengers from Clinton. A difference between the laborers and capitalists will affect more than the interests of those immediately interested, as the whole community is remotely concerned. The working of these mines gives a business life to the entire community. We predict a speedy settlement of all difficulties.

Elopement.—On Tuesday of last week, Lawrence Dunham, a young man of twenty-two years, eloped with the wife of V. V. Morford, who resides about a mile south of Sharpsville, Mercer Co. The woman is thirty-nine years of age, and leaves a family of five children, the youngest aged about four years. It is said she left her husband very unceremoniously and in a clandestine way. Mr. Morford, of course, is very indignant, but does not consider it worth while to follow the guilty pair. Mrs. M., before leaving, took all of her husband's money she could secure, the linen, bedding, etc., that three trunks would hold, and with the booty thus gathered, left with her youthful lover for the far west, where, when she arrives, it is probable she will have occasion to repent the rash act.

Sleeplessness.—The best anodyne is a liberal amount of muscular activity out of doors every day. Persons who sit around the fire and lounge on the sofa, or read or sew a great part of the day, need not expect sound sleep; only the laboring man can taste it in all its sweetness.

Good Templar's Convention.—The Triennial Convention of Beaver District, I. O. of G. T. of Pennsylvania, met in Good Templars Hall, Bridgewater, on Friday, April 5th, 1872. Called to order at 10 o'clock a. m. by W. C. T. Thos. Elvenson presiding. Opened with the usual ceremonies. Minutes of previous convention read and approved.

The usual routine of business, of appointing committees &c. gone through with; committee on credentials reported seven Lodges represented by fifty delegates, three Lodges not reporting.

The following are the names of the delegates from the Lodges reported: Enola Lodge No. 163 Bros. H. B. Beisel, David Woodruff, William Brown, Casper Gull and Sister Tillie E. Moorhead. Amaranth Lodge No. 294, Bros. T. J. Chandler, J. Smith, Robert Mears, Nelson Otto, Sisters Laura Smith and Beckie Anderson. New Brighton Lodge No. 301, Bros. R. B. Bradford, Chas. Carter, —— Senior, —— Robinson, Jos. Alexander, David Alexander, Sisters Stratton, Carter, R. & B. Howe. Mound Valley Lodge No. 733, Bros. A. Atkinson, Wm. Reymor, G. W. Mitchell, Wm. Pinder, Sisters E. Reymor, S. Pinder, E. Swager, G. Young. A. Howard, S. Thompson, Freedom Lodge No. 822, Bro. John Biggs, Sisters Thalia McCaskey, Delia Bryan, S. A. Nickem, Bella Robinson, Lida Robinson. Sewickley Lodge No. 908, Bros. E. A. Cook, F. H. Whitesel, John McPherson, Clay Beal, Sisters Ingram. Beaver River Lodge No. 963, Bro. McPherson, Sisters S. Hunter, Lide Sherwood, Mary Waddle, H. Elvenson, Ada Wilson, Kate Sherwood.

Reports of progress of different Lodges called for, and all gave most encouraging reports, both of increase of membership and interest manifested in the cause, especially Enola Lodge No. 163, Amaranth Lodge No. 294 and Mound Valley Lodge No. 733. Located respectively, Bridgewater, Rochester and Beaver Falls. Music called for and given by the choir under the direction of Bro. John Carter, of No. 294. The hour of 12 m. having arrived, convention, on motion adjourned to meet at 1:30 p. m. Entertainment being provided for the delegates by the members of Enola Lodge.

Convention reassembled at 1:30 p. m. W. C. T. Elvenson still presiding. On motion Bro. —— Welsh of Darlington Lodge was granted the privileges of the convention.

Some visitors arrived, among them our District Deputy, Rev. W. B. Grace of Beaver Falls and Rev. Jones of New Brighton. Committee appointed at last convention to draft constitution, reported, and after some trifling amendments, adopted. Under the new constitution the convention was changed from a Triennial to a Quarterly convention, to meet the first Friday in March, June, September and December. On motion proceeded to the nomination and election of place of next meeting, and also of officers. Sewickley was the place chosen for the holding of the next convention, and the following officers were elected, W. C. T. Jos. Alexander of No. 301. W. V. T. Tillie E. Moorhead of No. 163, W. Treas. R. B. Bradford of No. 301. W. Sec. F. T. C. Whitesel of 908. The committee on resolutions reported affirmatively on the following: Whereas, At the recent quarterly county convention of Philadelphia the following resolution was adopted by said convention.

Resolved That we request the delegates of our worthy Grand Lodge to Rt. Worthy Grand Lodge, to advocate such a change in the constitution and By-laws of that Rt. worthy Body as to allow two or more Grand Lodges in the State and also a resolution calling a convention of delegates from Eastern Lodges in our State, for the purpose of taking measures to present at the next session of Grand Lodge, the following resolution.

Resolved, That the Grand Lodge, I. O. of G. T. of Penna., meet every alternate year in Philadelphia; and, whereas, a large number of new lodges are being formed in that part of the State for the sole purpose of gaining representation to grand Lodge for the accomplishment of personal ends: and, whereas, such action cannot fail to prove disastrous to our order, and detrimental to the best interests of our cause. Therefore,

Resolved, That we enter our united protest against such action, and we will use our utmost endeavors to defeat the accomplishment of the purpose contemplated.

Resolved, That we request the delegates of our worthy Grand Lodge to Rt. Worthy Grand Lodge, to oppose any measures, tending to bring about a division of our Grand Lodge.

Resolved, That as other parts of our State have the same right to the Grand Lodge, we deem it unjust to hold alternate sessions in Philadelphia.

Resolved, That to meet the force which will be united to carry the aforesaid resolutions we deem it the duty of the Lodges of this District, to be as fully represented as possible at the next session of Grand Lodge to be held at Altoona, and that delegates be instructed to oppose the passage of aforesaid resolutions.

Resolved, That we call on all lodges and District conventions, interested in the promotion and welfare of our order to unite with us in this action.

[Signed] J. H. Decker.

Resolved, That it is with regret we notice the change in the action of our Grand Lodge organ, "The Key Stone Good Templar. It, since the change in the management having taken down the banner Prohibition, and hoisted in its place the Local Option Banner, which we deem but another form of "Regulating" the Rum Traffic, a course that is inconsistent with our duties as Good Templars.

Resolved, That the only true method of suppressing the rum traffic is the total Prohibition of the sale of spirituous or malt liquors to be used as a beverage.

[Signed] J. H. Decker.

Resolved, That a committee of —— be appointed by this convention, whose duty it shall be to issue an address to the clergy of Beaver county, setting forth the facts, and brief statistics, and the alarming necessity that exists for organization, urging them to present the subject to their congregation that action may be taken, whereby they, as churches and christian people may be represented in a mass Convention, to be held in the town of —— on —— day of ——. A copy of said address to be placed in the hands of every minister in this county, also to leading temperance men and temperance societies, soliciting their cooperation; and further, said committee shall at the earliest practicable time arrange for holding said convention, where a permanent county society may be formed, to be auxiliary to the "State Temperance Union," and arrangements perfected for thoroughly oragnizing the various townships and boroughs on the same plan.

[Signed] A. Bestwick.

On motion the first blank of this resolution was filled by inserting thirteen, as the number comprising the committee; five of whom were appointed by the convention, viz; A. B. Bestwick, chairman, Rev. J. L. Jones, —— Welsh, Dr. T. G. McPherson and B. R. Bradford, with power to appoint remaining eight outside of the order of Good Templars, the other blanks to be filled by the committee. Bro. A. B. Bestwick also offered the two following resolutions.

Resolved, That each Lodge be requested to provide at once a fund equal to five cents for each member in good standing, said fund to be placed in the hands of the chairman of the committee for the purpose only of carrying out the provisions of the foregoing resolution.

Resolved, That, as the Legislature of this State after many years, passed the Local Option Law, we accept the same as an educator of public sentiment, but as Good Templars and true temperance men, we accept nothing as a finality, but absolute Prohibition of the liquor traffic by law. The resolutions were by motion considered, Ad Scriatim. The first series of preambles and resolutions and the third, elicited quite a spirited discussion from R. B. Bradford, A. Bestwick, Dr. T. J. Chandler, Jos. M. Alexander, J. H. Decker, —— Welsh and others, and were all adopted without one dissenting voice.

District Deputy, Bro. Grace was requested to arrange a series of fraternal visitations between the Lodges, for the coming quarter.

On motion a vote of thanks was returned to Enola Lodge No. 163 for the courtesy and hospitality shown to the delegates and visitors of which there were a large number. At 5:30 p. m. adjourned to meet in Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m., to attend the lecture of H. D. McGaw on the great temperance question.

Met at the appointed time; meeting was organized by calling A. Bestwick to the chair; prayer by Dr. D. L. Dempsey. The lecturer was then introduced and delivered a most excellent address to a tolerably large audience; but not so large as might have been, had there been more formal notice of it given. At 9 o'clock p. m. adjourned sine die.

THE REIGN OF TERROR. No. 4.

BY HOMO.

CONCLUSIONS.

In our previous articles we have traced the analogies between the period anterior to the 'Reign of Terror,' in France, and the present; and now, as surely as similar causes always produce similar effects, so surely are we approaching another era of blood. If Spiritualism, Infidelity, Socialism and Free Love produced the Commune, and the Commune brought the fearful work of 1792 in France, so surely will the same principles in operation produce again such a result wherever they exist. To show that we are not alone in reaching such a conclusion, we give the substance of an editorial which appeared in 'The New York Herald' Dec. 15th, under the following caption:

"Mr. Hoar's Labor Bill in Congress—The Entering-Wedge of another Tremendous Revolution."

The writer says:

"Within the last ten years, on the questions of African slavery * * * * we have passed through one of the most stupendous revolutions in the history of mankind, and now we are on the verge of another. The revolution accomplished turned upon the wrongs of Slavery and the rights of the black race. The revolution upon which we are about to enter will be fought upon the Wrongs of the Laboring Classes and the Rights of Labor. By the revolution we have left behind us, the old social and political institutions of our Southern States, of two hundred years of cultivation, have been torn up by the roots. By the revolution which is just before us, the social and political institutions of the Civilized World,—some of them older than the Pyramids,—will be swept away. We say we are on the verge of this mighty revolution, for in the Labor Bill of Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts, introduced in the national House of Representatives, we have the entering wedge of this mighty revolution. * * * This bill provides for the appointment by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, of a Commission of three persons, to hold office for two years * * * who are to investigate the subject of the wages and hours of labor, and the division of the profits of labor and capital between the laborer and the capitalist, and the social, educational and sanitary condition of the laboring classes of the United States, and show how the same are affected by existing laws regulating commerce, finance and currency. * * The significant fact in connection with this bill is that it REALLY comes from the International, and is offered as a bid from the party in power to the International and its co-operating labor societies for their support in the approaching Presidential election. * * * In introducing this bill, Mr. Hoar admitted his obligations to the International, and had a good word for the Paris Commune. This from a Massachusetts Puritan unquestionably means business * * * This is a beginning, and it may be considered in the light of a Republican compromise with the International to tide over the Presidential Election. But it admits the International into Congress as a political power in the land, and the agitation will go on, and gather strength as it goes.—What is the trouble with the laboring classes of the United States? They complain that through banking monopolies, railway monopolies, manufacturing monopolies, and monopolies and combinations of capital in every shape and form, under our existing laws, capital is becoming stronger and the laborer weaker—the rich are becoming richer and the poor poorer from year to year, and the International proposes to cut out these evils as slavery was cut out—by the roots, beginning with the investigation proposed by Mr. Hoar."

This bill, amended so as to limit the term of the commissioners' office to one year, has since passed the House of Representatives.

We will now introduce a few extracts from a pamphlet recently published in New York, by George Wilkes, entitled, "The International, its principles and purposes." Being a sequel to "The Defense of the Commune," and "dedicated to the National Labor Movement." In speaking of the recent trouble in Paris, he says:

"As for Paris herself her fight had been for liberty. On this theme she was a unit Before her struggle was over, however, * * * she became wholly a convert to the International. In the face of the new armament of Europe and the fresh compact of its kings, she saw that her only hope was in a Holy Alliance of the People. International is an organization of the working classes of all nations."

In speaking of the reforms (!) proposed by the Commune he says:

"The only power which can do this for us must spring from the unpolluted source which has never held power before—from the banded workmen of the New World—the International. It is already preparing for its task. * * * The day of deliverance is at hand; old things must pass away, and all things must be made new. It may be thought that I am attributing an undue importance to the International and accrediting it with too great a forwardness toward the object of its mission, but everything on this side of the Atlantic justifies my expectation. Since the great crimes of Prussia in plundering Denmark, surprising Austria, and secretly plotting a system of universal armament (which enabled her to deluge France with bayonets, and must have the effect of refeudalizing Europe on the basis of the middle ages), the masses of all the Continental States have been pouring into the organization."

Speaking of the casting down of the Column of Vendome, in Paris last year, as a representative of monarchy, he says:

"That lesson of the Column was not lost upon the masses of Europe, nor upon the German mind, while a vastly accelerated activity of all the affiliated societies sprang from the fall of the Commune.—Meetings of the International are now being held, under various titles and pretexts, all over Europe. The most notable of these took place in London a few weeks ago, which had been forbidden by formal notice of the authorities, backed by an array of four thousand policemen and a large reserve of military. The meeting was held, however, and the first thing which the first speaker said to the tens of thousands of people who were swarming around him was: 'We are here to-night because the Government has forbidden us to come.' That was the finishing stroke to the present Government of Great Britain, and when the International are ready to proceed further, they will puff the form of it away."

In speaking of the Monarchical alliance against Democracy, or the International, he says:

"That the despotic powers of Europe do not under rate the importance of the International, and are prepared to grapple with it, is evident from a variety of signs that appear in the journals of the day. The perfidious government of M Theirs proposes, through its Minister of Justice, to make membership in it, or in any other secret association, a penal offense. The correspondent of the London 'Times,' writing from Salzburg, Sept. 7th, 1871, on the subject of the meeting at that place of Bismark and Beust, and the Austrian and Prussian emperors, says: 'One of the subjects discussed by the Austrian and German Statesmen was the International Society, as much with the object of defense against its machinations—should necessity arise—as with the view of possibly arriving at a positive solution of social questions' And 'The Courier Diplomatique,' of the same date, publishes the following news: 'At Salzburg, Count de Beust and Prince de Bismark have resolved to maintain the peace of Europe against all aggressors. A protocol has been signed concerning measures to be taken against the International. Other powers are invited to give in their adhesion."

The above speak for themselves. It is evident that unless the International renounces its principles, the conflict must soon come. But, so far from doing this, the International is arming! The following is from the cable telegram of the New York Herald of Jan. 5, 1872:

"One of the London journals this morning confirms the report which was speedily forwarded by cable to the Herald yesterday, to the effect that agents of the International Society have bought large quantities of the French arms which were captured by the Germans during the late war, and sold by Prussia in Belgium."

Thus the mutterings of the coming storm are heard. The question may here be asked, What connection has this state of things with prophecy? We answer, a very solemn and interesting one. We will introduce a part of the apostle James' testimony.

"Go to, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you. Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are moth-eaten. Your gold is CANKERED, and the Rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days." v. 1–3.

We regard this language as prophetic, and designed to apply at this time. Such a state as is here described actually exists. Treasure is heaped together, and monopoly and consolidation hold sway. "Rust" or "canker" does not appear on metal continually in use. Paper currency has taken the place of gold and silver in nearly all the nations which have lately passed through wars or revolutions, and is fast becoming the only circulating medium of the world. It is done "for the last days." This expression, in the New Testament, generally applies to the closing years of this dispensation.—We now notice verse 4, James v:

"Behold the hire of your laborers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth, and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth."

Here the secret of this gathered wealth is revealed. Fraud has had much to do with it. The cries of the poor and the defrauded have invoked the wrath of Divine Justice. Here is the conflict betwen capital and labor! This verse might apply to most of the revolutions of the past which grew out of oppression. How well it was illustrated in the rebellion in our own country which grew out of the wrongs of slavery!

[Here follows objectionable matter, which of course we exclude.—Ed.]

The first Reign of Terror brought the end of the 1260 years of Papal persecution; the last Reign of Terror brings the end of all prophetic time, when "Great Babylon" will come "into remembrance before God to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of His wrath." A tremendous struggle must inevitably take place between the Red Republicans and the Ultra Catholics of Europe. Victor Emanuel is in Rome with his parliament. The Catholics look upon the temporal power as essential to them, and will probably endeavor to restore it. The Republicans are equally determined that it shall never be restored. The Catholics are now boldly advocating a crusade to restore the Pope, and they see that what is done must be done quickly. The Republicans are also eager for the fray, that they may destroy the hated priests. We are therefore on the verge of this fratracidal strife. How soon the last restraint will be removed we cannot say. A few months now serves to accomplish what once required decades of years.

We would say that we deeply sympathize with the poor and the laborer, and believe they have many wrongs which ought to be redressed; but in the light of prophecy we are compelled to say that human means cannot accomplish for them what they desire.

In our next we shall reply to the ladies of Chewton, "What is the sin against the Holy Ghost?" Then take up the question of "Capital and Labor."

To The School Directors
Of Beaver County:

Gentlemen:—In pursuance of the forty-third section of the act of the 8th of May, 1854, you are hereby notified to meet in Convention at the Court-House in Beaver, on the first Tuesday in May, A. D. 1872 being the 7th day of the month, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and select, viva voce, by a majority of the whole number of directors present, one person of literary and scientific acquirements, and of skill and experience in the art of teaching, as County Superintendent for the three succeeding years, determine the amount of compensation for the same, and certify the result to the State Superintendent, at Harrisburg, as required by the thirty ninth and fortieth sections of said act. Respectfully announce to their numerous customers, and buyers of Dry Goods generally, that they are now receiving, and are daily opening their usual large and elegant assortment of Spring Goods; and that their capacious salesrooms are now filled with all the choicest novelties of the season, embracing many new styles and fabrics never before offered in this market. Special attention is requested to the stock of Black Alpacas, Silks, medium and low priced Dress Goods, House-keeping Goods, and Shawls.

Having the handsomest and best lighted Store Room in the two cities, and keeping nothing but the best makes of goods, and guaranteeing our prices to be as low as the lowest, we are satisfied that we can make it to the interest of purchasers to look through our stock before making their spring purchases. To close buyers at wholesale, we can offer some special inducements; we carry one of the largest stocks of goods in this market, comprising many things in Shawls and medium priced Dress Goods, not kept in regular wholesale houses. We guarantee our prices as low as any New York or Philadelphia quotations, and only ask an examination to convince buyers that we can do them good.

great deal, although irregularly, and is exceedingly well informed about matters that do not generally interest women, especially political affairs and historical subjects. Thoroughly [illegible] in appearance, her turn of thought is masculine. She converses with fluency and earnestness in a musical, seductive voice, and is most attractive for clever men, with whom the attraction arises from mental rather than physical qualities, although at times she is very pretty.

It has attracted general notice that a woman should have been found mixed up in these arms sales, but in reality it would have been strange had no woman been thus connected, as in all other human affairs from birth to death—in the redemption as well as the fall of man. We have all heard the trite but characteristic story of the French judge who, when any one was arraigned before him on any charge, was wont to ask: "Who is the woman?" This, however, has always been the practice of man. For did not Adam, even in Paradise, resort to the craven device of exclaiming: "The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat." In their evidence, Peck and Wiard have only shown themselves true sons of Adam. More anon.

WHAT IS SPIRITUALISM?

EDITOR ARGUS: Please give place [illegible] columns to the accompanying [illegible] from distinguished [illegible] thinkers, as a refutation, in part, of the charges made by your correspondent "Homo" against Spiritualism. As soon as I can find an hour's time to turn aside, from immediate pressing duties, I may give some further attention to the allegations made by this astute philosopher, and intellectual gladiator, whose profound productions are doing so much to instruct and enlighten the people.

Spiritualism is based on the cardinal fact of spirit communion and influx; it is the effort to discover all truth relating to man's spiritual nature, capacities, relations, duties, welfare, and destiny; and its application to a regenerate life. It recognizes a continuous Divine inspiration in man; it aims through a careful, reverent study of facts, at a knowledge of the laws and principles which govern the occult forces of the universe; of the relations of spirit to matter, and of man to God and the spiritual world.—London Spiritual Magazine.

Spiritualism has been existing in all ages and nations—from the foundations of the world. Protestantism has apostatized from the faith and experience of the universal world, and even now, through Protestantism, invincible, multitudinous, and daily-springing facts are restoring the empire of Spiritualism to its natural throne in the heart and the intellect of man. In England there are thousands of private families, including many of the very highest in wealth, in intellect and in learning, in which the varied phenomena of Spiritualism are as familiar as the daily newspaper.—William Howitt.

The doctrine of departed spirits returning to visit the scenes and beings which were dear to them during the body's existence, though it has been debased by the absurd superstitions of the vulgar, in itself is awefully solemn and sublime. A belief of this kind would, I should think, be a new incentive to virtue, rendering us circumspect even in our most secret moments, from the idea that those we once loved and honored were invisible witnesses of all our actions.—Washington Irving.

I believe that the great realm of life goes on without the body. And, here as there, the mother not only is the guardian of her children whom she loves, but foresees that bad associates and evil influences threaten them, and draws them back and shields them from the impending danger.—Henry Ward Beecher.

We believe, on the authority of Scripture, that spirits are capable of entering human bodies, of speaking through them and acting in them; and hence we believe in the possibility of spirits operating on matter in the way of rapping out the letters of the alphabet, or in the way of writing with a pencil.—Dr. Campbell, in British Standard.

If the "spiritual writing manifestations are a delusion, they are getting to be something more—something approaching a very ingenious, persistent and unscrupulous attempt to palm an utter fraud upon the credulous, by men of rare power and genius. Either the manifestations are of the general nature that they claim to [illegible] those of other than [illegible] intelligences, or they are the result of a studied deception, and [illegible] —Dr. Holland, in Springfield, Mass., Republican.

We not only believe—in the ministry of angels, but believe that its existence and advantages are demonstrable to all who candidly seek and willingly choose the responsibilities that seeking incurs. And we hail it as the hope of humanity and the dawn of its brightest day.—Rev. J. B. Ferguson.

All dreams might be trusted if men would only bring their bodies into such a state, before going to sleep, as to leave nothing that might occasion error or perturbation in their dreams.—Plato.

That to some persons, prophecy occurs in dreams, is not disbelieved. —Aristotle.

I must confess, as the experience of my own soul, that the expectation of loving my friends in heaven principally kindles my love to them on earth. If I thought that I should never know and consequently never love them after this life, I should number them with temporal things and love them as such; but I now delightfully converse with my pious friends, in a firm persuasion that I shall converse with them forever; and I take comfort in those that are dead or absent, believeing that I shall shortly meet them in heaven, and love them with a heavenly love.—Richard Baxter.

To deny the possibility, nay, actual existence, of witchcraft and sorcery, is at once flatly to contradict the revealed word of God, in various passages both of the Old and New Testament; and the thing itself is a truth to which every nation in the world hath, in its turn, borne testimony, either by examples seemingly well attested, or by prohibitory laws, which at least suppose the possibility of commerce with evil spirits—Blackstone.

As the manifestations have spread from house to house, from city to city, from one part of the country to the other, across the Atlantic into Europe, till now the civilized world is compelled to acknowledge their reality, however diverse in accounting for them—as these manifestations continue to increase in variety and power, so that all suspicion of trick or imposture becomes simply absurd and preposterous—and as every attempt to find a solution for them in some physical theory relating to electricity, the odic force, clairvoyance, and the like, has thus far proved abortive—it becomes every intelligent mind to enter into an investigation of them with candor and fairness, as opportunity may offer, and to bear such testimony in regard to them as the facts may warrant, no matter what ridicule it may excite on the part of the uninformed or skeptical. Our conviction is, that they cannot be accounted for on any other theory than that of spiritual agency.—William Lloyd Garrison.

Oh, tell me not that the fathers of this Republic are dead—that generous host, that airy army of invincible heroes. They hover as a cloud of witnesses above this nation. Are They dead that yet speak louder than we can speak, a more universal language? Are they dead that yet act? Are they dead that yet move upon society, and inspire the people with nobler motives and more heroic patriotism?—Henry Ward Beecher.

I cannot get over the feeling that the souls of the dead do somehow connect themselves with the places of their former habitation: and that the hush and thrill of spirit, which we feel in them, may be owing to the overshadowing presence of the invisible. St. Paul says, "we are compassed about with a great cloud of witnesses;" but how can they be witnesses if they cannot see and be cognizant?—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Spiritualism teaches, that, in spite of all draw-backs and apparent retrogression amelioration is the fundamental law of being. Were it not so, we could not believe, as we do, in the creative benignity. The deductions, so far as they are in accordance with known facts and psychical laws, must have a scientific import and value. The spirits, or spiritual forces do perpetrate what seems trivial tricks. They tie knots in pocket-handkerchiefs, throw stones, pull the hair of mortals, cuff them, or lift them off their feet; and do many things neither reverent nor dignified. Shall we deny facts, because they puzzle us? Shall we seek to adapt the facts to our pet philosophy and pre-conceived notions? or shall we adapt our philosophy and notions to the facts?—Epes Sargent.

The facts of modern Spiritualism prove to me, that in all ages men on this planet have had communication with souls of men that have left it, and life after death is an organic law of the soul. This explains the mystery of all religions. There were spiritual revelations addressed to the soul of man in its early condition. Modern Spiritualism is the key to them all, and the laws of spiritual intercourse as evolved in these modern phenomena, explain scientifically and positively all the mythology, symbolism, idealism, transcendentalism, mysticism, and spiritualism of the ages.—J. West Nevins.

Mr. Foster has had a most successful professional trip as a "medium" to England. His portfolio is filled with letters from such persons of genius as Bulwer, Tennyson and Dickens, and such persons of rank as the Duchess of Sutherland and Lady Mary of Cambridge. We have been present at several of his sittings, and have seen positive miracles of his doing, in the way of moving furniture without putting a hand to it, and interpreting all sorts of impossible riddles.—N. P. Willis, in Home Journal.

Spiritualism is so universal—numbers so many hundreds of thousands of persons of all grades of intellect and truthfulness as its followers—that to disbelieve them utterly would be equivalent to ignoring all human testimony. There are plenty of men and women of the very highest minds and culture who believe in it—who have tested its claims themselves, with persons, and under circumstances, that made collusion an impossibility.—Chicago Republican.

THE JOSH BILLINGS PAPERS.

NATRAL HISTORY—THE ROBBING.

The robin has a red brest.

They hav a plantiff song, and sing az tho they waz sorry for sum thing.

They are natifs ov the northern States, but go south to winter.

They git their name from their great ability for robbing a cherry tree.

They kan also robin a currant bush fust rate, and are smart on a gooseberry.

They build their nest out ov mud, and straw, and lay 4 eggs, that are speckled.

Four yung robbings, in a nest, that are just hatched out, and still on the half-shell, are alwuz az reddy for dinner, az a nuzeboy iz.

If enny body goes near their nest, their mouths all fly open at once, so that you kan see clear down to their palates.

If it wa'n't for the birds, I suppose, ov course, we should all be et up by the catter pillars and snakes, but i hav thought it wouldn't be anything more than common politeness for the robbings to let us hav, now and then, just one of our own cherriz, tew see how they did taste.

THE SWALLO.

The swallo is a lively bird.

Swallos make their appearance late in the spring, and are alwus in a twitter about sumthing.

They hav az much twitter as a boarding skule miss.

They kan fli az swift az an arrow, and a green deacon skider.

I hav seen them skim a mill-pond close enuff tew take the cream off from it, and even make the frogs dodge, and not touch the water.

When the swallo cums, spring haz cum sure, but thare iz an old proverb (one ov Solomans I presume) which sez, "one swallo don't make a spring."

This may be so, but I have seen a spring ov water that would make a grate menny swallows.

Swallows never hav the dispepsay, they liv upon nothing, and take a great deal ov exercise in the open air.

They don't set up nites busting, and never cheat a taylor out ov hiz bill.

They dont waste enny time in the morning making their toilet, but like the flowers, shake oph the dew from their heds, and are reddy for bizzness.

I kant think ov enny thing God has made, more harmless than a swallo, they are as innosent az a daizy, and az pure az the air they swim in, they wont live, shut up in a cage, much longer than a trout will.

THE BAT

The bat is a winged mouse.

They live very retired during the day, but at nite cum out for a frolik.

They fli very mutch unsartin, and ackt az tho they had taken a leetle to much gin.

They look out ov their face like a yung owl, and will bite like a snappin turkle.

What they are good for i kant tell, and dont believe they kan tell neither.

They dont seem tew be bird, beast, nor insek, but a kind ov live hash, made out of all three.

If thare warnt enny bats in this world, i dont suppose the earth would refuse to revolve on its axis, once in a while, just for fun.

But when we cum to think that there aint on the face ov the earth even one bat too mutch, and there haint been, since the daze ov adam, a single surplus muskeeters egg laid by acksident, we kan form sum kind ov an idee how little we know, and what a poor job we should make ov it runnin the mashinery ov kreashun.

Man iz a phool enny how, and the best ov the joke iz, he dont seem to kno it.

Bats hav a destiny tew fill, and i will bet 4 dollars, they fill it better than we do ours.

Bats liv on flies, and hawks liv on bats, but who livs on hawks, I kant tell.

Biled hawk may be good, i never herd any boddy say it wasn't, but i dont hope i shall ever be called upon tew decide it.

Tew save life, i would eat biled hawk, but if it tastes az i think it duz, i wouldn't ask for a second plate ov it.

A Miss Lizzie Bryan, of Richill township, Greene county, a graduate of Waynesburg College, was secretly married about six months ago to Corbly Garrard. Shortly after a music teacher named Loller made her acquaintance, sought her hand, and was accepted and married her. Last week Garard, husband No. 1, called at her father's house, where she was living with No. 2, and demanded an interview, which was refused. He then told the family of the secret marriage, of which they were in entire ignorance. The young woman does not deny the marriage with Garrard, but states that she took it as a joke. Loller has sought legal redress.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, [illegible] Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Acne, Black Spots, Worms in the Flesh, [illegible] Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

Not only does the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where there are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins. Price, $1.00.

VINEGAR BITTERS

PURELY VEGETABLE FREE FROM ALCOHOL

DR WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion. Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, [illegible] Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. [illegible]

Mechanical Diseases. Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, [illegible]

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goiter, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic and Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safe-guard in all cases of eruptions and malignant fevers, their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, either from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc. Their Counter-Irritant influence extends throughout the system. Their Anti-Bilious properties stimulate the liver, in the secretion of bile, and its discharges through the biliary ducts, and are superior to all remedial agents, for the cure of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus forearmed.

Directions. Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassful. Eat good nourishing food, such as beef steak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S

ALT. EXT. or

Golden Medical Discovery

CURES DISEASES OF THE

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above pointed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties, it cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, [illegible] diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful purifying [illegible]

Buckingham's Dye

FOR THE WHISKERS

As our Renewer in many cases requires too long a time, and too much care, to restore gray or faded Whiskers, we have prepared this dye, in one preparation; which will quickly and effectually accomplish this result. It is easily applied, and produces a color which will neither rub nor wash off. Sold by all Druggists. Price Fifty Cents.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For the relief and cure of all derangements in the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels. [illegible]

use, and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
